DESCRIPTIVE QUESTIONS

2008 - Dec [4] (a) Subsequent to the demise of Mrs. X, her sons constituted a firm and ran the same business. Can the firm claim set off of unabsorbed business loss of late X? (3 marks)

Answer:

Where any person carrying on business or profession has been succeeded in such capacity by another person otherwise than by inheritance, then the successor cannot have the loss of predecessor carried forward and set off against his income. Where the business is succeeded by inheritance, the legal heirs are entitled to the benefit of the loss of predecessor. Even if the legal heirs constitutes themselves as a partnership firm, the benefit of predecessor's loss should be made available to the firm.

(a) CG Ltd. is engaged in the business of conversion of jumbo rolls of films into saleable packets/rolls of standard size.

Is the company entitled to claim deduction under Section 80-IB?

(4 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

As per the Supreme Court's decision in the case of India Cine Agencies VS. CIT conversion of jumbo rolls of films into saleable packets / rolls of standard size is manufacturing activity.

Deduction u/s 80IB is available to the Industrial Undertaking who is engaged in the business of manufacturing or production of article or thing. Under the given circumstances, business of CG Ltd. is that of manufacturing as per India Cine Agencies (Supra) and therefore the company is entitled to deduction u/s 80 IB of the Act.

2011 - May [4] (b) Can the brought forward losses and unabsorbed depreciation be set off against the profit determined under section 44B ?

(4 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

The provisions of Section 44B requires a NR to compute its income on the presumptive basis and use of Sec. 44B is mandatory and not optional. Therefore, there is no possibility of having a business loss where income is computed on presumptive basis u/s 44B. In case, the brought forward losses mentioned in the question are taken to be business losses there is an inbuilt presumption that such losses and depreciation relate to another business of the non- resident and not the shipping business. In such a case, both business loss and unabsorbed depreciation of another business can be set-off against the profits determined u/s 44B in respect of shipping business.

2011 - Dec [1] {C} (b) Provide brief answers (not exceeding three or four sentences) for the following:

(viii) What is an oral trust and in whose hands will the income of such trust be assessed? (2 marks)

Answer:

An oral trust means a trust which is not declared by a duly executed instrument in writing and which is not deemed to be trust declared by a duly executed instrument in writing. Income of an oral trust, terms whereof are not recorded in writing and intimated to the assessing officer, within the specified time will be chargeable to income-tax at the maximum marginal rate of tax. However, income of an oral trust, terms whereof are recorded in writing and forwarded to the assessing officer within the specified time limit, will be chargeable to income-tax at the maximum marginal rate of tax, only if, the share of the beneficiaries are indeterminate or unknown and where the share of the beneficiaries are definite and known, the tax will be levied and recovered from the trustees in the same manner and to the same extent as would be livable or recoverable from the beneficiaries.

Where only a part of the trust income is chargeable to tax, the share of the beneficiary, which is chargeable to tax is to be determined in the same proportion which such part bears to the whole income of the trust e.g. the total income of a trust is ₹ 90,000 out of which a beneficiary received ₹ 30,000 and only 1/3rd of the trust income is chargeable to tax.

Income of Oral Trust is assessed as under:

Which is received receives or entitled to receive by trustee (appointed under an oral trust) on behalf of or for the benefit of any person: Such trustee or trustees.

2012 - Nov [6] (d) A company which is entitled to claim deduction under section 80-IB has received duty drawback under a scheme framed by the Central Government under the Customs Act, 1962. Can such duty drawback form part of profit of eligible undertaking for the purpose of deduction under section 80-IB? (3 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

Section 80-IB provides for allowing deduction in respect of profits and gains derived from eligible business of the industrial undertaking.

The issue under consideration is whether duty drawback can be regarded as "profits and gains derived from eligible business of the industrial undertaking".

For a receipt to be treated as having been "derived from" the industrial undertaking, the same should be directly and inextricably connected with the business of the industrial undertaking. The connection should be direct and not remote.

The facts of the case are similar to the facts of the case in Liberty India v. CIT (2009) 317 ITR 218, wherein the Supreme Court observed that duty drawback is an incentive which flows from the schemes framed by the Central Government or from the Customs Act, 1962. Profits derived by way of incentives such as duty drawback cannot be credited against the cost of manufacture of goods debited in the profit and loss account and they do not fall within the expression "profits derived from industrial undertaking" under Section 80-IB. They belong to the category of ancillary profits of such undertaking. Hence, duty drawback receipts cannot form part of the profits derived from the eligible business for the purpose of the deduction under Section 80-IB.

Applying the same rationale to the present case, duty drawback would not form part of profit of eligible undertaking for the purpose of deduction under Section 80-IB.

2013 - Nov [3] (b) Examine the correctness or otherwise of the following statements in the context of provisions contained in the Income Tax Act, 1961 and the decided case laws:

- (i) The Assessing Officer is bound to allow the set-off of losses under section 72 even the assessee has not claimed the same in the return filed. (3 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer:

The statement is correct. The Supreme Court held in CIT vs. Mahalakshmi Sugar Mills Co. Ltd. (1986) that it is the duty of the AO to apply the relevant provisions of the Act for the purpose of determining true figure of the assessee's total income. Only because the assessee fails to claim the benefit of a set off in his return, it cannot relieve the AO of his duty to apply Section 72 in an appropriate case.

2013 - Dec [5] Answer the following with the help of decided case law:

- (a) Can, the benefit of self-occupation of house property under section 23(2) of the Income-tax Act, 1961 be denied to HUF on the ground that it cannot occupy a house property, being a fictional entity? (5 marks)

Answer :

Provision of Law:

As per Section 23 (2) of the Income Tax Act, if the house consists of one house in the occupation of owner for his own residence, the annual value of such house shall be taken to be nil.

Fact of the Case:

The issue similar to present case decided in case of CIT vs. Hariprasad Bhojnagarwala (2012)342 ITR 69 (Guj.) (Full Bench). The assessee, being a Hindu Undivided Family (HUF), claimed the benefit of self occupation of a house property under section 23(2). However, the Assessing Officer did not accept the said claim and denied the benefit of self occupation of house property by the HUF arguing that such benefit is available only to the owner who can reside in his own residence i.e., only an individual assessee, who is a natural person, and not to a imaginary assessable entity being HUF or a firm, etc.

Decision: On the above mentioned issue, the Gujarat High Court observed as follows:

- That a firm, which is a fictional entity, cannot physically reside in a house property and therefore a firm cannot claim the benefit of this provision, which is available to an assessable entity who can actually occupy the house.
- The HUF is a group of individuals related to each other i.e., a family comprising of a group of natural persons. The said family can reside in the house, which belongs to the HUF. Since a HUF cannot consist of artificial persons, it cannot be said to be a fictional entity.
- Since singular includes plural, the word "owner" would include "owners" and the words "his own" used in Section 23(2) would include "their own".

Therefore, the Court held that the HUF is entitled to claim benefit of self-occupation of house property under section 23(2) of income tax act.

2014 - Dec [8] (a) Madubaala Finance Ltd., has started a new NBFC Division for its leasing activities. For the new NBFC Division, the company anticipates GST liability but wants to light/contest the levy of GST. The NBFC Division plans to collect from its customers on an ad-hoc basis, amounts towards possible GST liability (which will be disputed by the company with GST authorities). These amounts so collected will not be parked in a separate interest-bearing account. These amounts will be refundable to the customers, if the assessee were to succeed before the GST authorities.

The management wishes to know whether the above collections from customers be treated as the income of the company, and if taxed, under what head of income will the same be taxed. (5 marks)

(b) Jupiter Pharma Ltd., a pharmaceutical company, plans to collect "service charges" from the tenants of the buildings owned by it. The service agreement is dependent upon the rental agreement, which is executed by the company with the tenants. Services provided under the service agreement are in respect of staircase of the building, lift, common entrance, main road leading to the building through the compound, drainage facilities, open space in/around the building, air condition facility, etc.

The company wishes to know whether the service charges collected will be taxed under the head 'Income from house property' or as income from other sources. Advise them suitably. (5 marks)

Answer:

(a) Taxability of collections towards disputed GST liability:

The situation outlined in the problem resembles the one adjudicated by the Apex Court in Sundaram Finance Ltd. vs. ACIT (2012) 349 ITR 356 (SC). According to the assessee, in order to safeguard itself against, inter alia, the possible sales tax liabilities, the assessee received ₹ 36.5 lacs as contingent deposits; from its customers which were "refundable", if the assessee was to succeed in its challenge to the levy of the said GST. According to the assessee, the sum of ₹ 36.5 lacs was therefore an impress with a liability to refund, that the said sum had the character of "deposits" and hence, were not taxable in the year of receipt, but would be taxable only in the year in which the liability to refund the GST ceased (in case the assessee failed in the pending GST appeals).

The Supreme Court observed that:

- It is well settled that in determining whether a receipt is liable to be taxed, the taxing authorities cannot ignore the legal character of the transaction which is the source of the receipt.
- The taxing authorities are bound to determine the true legal character of the transaction. In the present case, the assessee had received ₹ 36.5 lacs in the assessment year in question.
- The said sum of ₹ 36.5 lacs was not kept in a separate interest bearing bank account but it formed part of the business turnover.

In view of the above, applying the substance over form test the Supreme Court was satisfied that in the present case the said sum of ₹ 36.5 lacs constituted trading receipt/ business income. The said amount was collected from the customers. The said amount was collected towards GST liability. The said amount formed part of the turnover.

The ratio of the Supreme Court decision is squarely applicable and hence the collections in questions towards disputed GST liability will be taxed as income. Since it is a trading receipt, it will be taxed under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession".

(b) Taxability of service charges collected from tenants:

The Bombay High Court had to consider a similar situation in the case of CIT vs. J.K. Investors (Bom) Ltd. (2012) 211 Taxman 383 (Bom).

The Bombay High Court observed and held thus:

- (i) It is an undisputed fact that no services are being provided by the assessee to the occupants of its property and that the service charges have to be included as a part of its rental income.
- (ii) The test to determine whether the service agreement is different from the rent agreement would be whether the service agreement could stand independently of the rent agreement. In the instant case, the service agreement is dependent upon the rent agreement, as in the absence of the rent agreement there could be no service agreement.
- (iii) It may also be pointed out that according to the assessee, the services being provided under the service agreement are in respect of staircase of the building, lift, common entrance, main road leading to the building through the compound, drainage facilities, open space in/around the building, air condition facility, etc. These are services which are not separately provided, but go along with the occupation of the property.

- (iv) Therefore, the amounts received as service charges are to be considered as a part of the rent received and subjected to tax under the head 'Income from house property'.

Applying the ratio of the above judgment, the advice will be that the service charges collected will be taxed as income from house property and not as income from other sources.

2018 - June [8] In the light of decided case laws, answer the following [Your answer should be under the following heads: (i) Issue involved (ii) Brief discussion on provisions applicable to the issue (iii) Analysis of the issue involved and (iv) Conclusion (Citation of the case law is NOT required)]:

- (e) Saipriya Charities had applied for registration of the trust u/s 12AA on 01.04.2018. No order was passed in this regard by the Commissioner of Income-tax/Director (Exemptions). Hence, the trust took the view that its application was accepted and proceeded to file its return of income. Is this view of the trust correct in law? (4 marks)

Answer:

Issue Involved:

The issue under consideration in this case is whether, in a case where the Commissioner of Income-tax has not passed any order for granting or refusing to grant registration within the prescribed time limit under Section 12AA, the trust can take the view that it is deemed to be registered under Section 12AA.

Provisions applicable:

As per Section 12AA, every order granting or refusing registration shall be passed before the expiry of 6 months from the end of the month in which the application was received.

Analysis:

Non-consideration of the application for registration within the time fixed by the legal provision would lead to deemed grant of registration, since the assessee cannot be made to suffer merely because the timely decisions are not taken by the Revenue Officers.

Accordingly, in this case, the trust would be deemed to be registered since no order granting or refusing to grant registration has been passed by the CIT on or before 30th September, 2018 and even thereafter upto the due date of filing of return for the A.Y.2019-20.

Conclusion:

The view taken by the assessee trust that the trust would be deemed to be registered under Section 12AA, since no order granting or refusing to grant registration has been passed by the Commissioner of Income-tax within the prescribed period of six months is, therefore, correct.

Reference may be made to the decision in CIT v. Society for the Promotion of Education (2016) 382ITR 6 (SC).

PRACTICAL QUESTIONS

2008 - Nov [3] (a) Explain in brief about the treatment to be given in each of the following cases under the I.T. Act, for A.Y. 2019-20 :

- (iv) A loss of ₹ 85,000 was sustained by Simran in the activity of owning and maintaining camels for races. (2 marks) [CAFG - II New]
- (v) Interest of ₹ 20,000 on bank FDRs received by minor son of Rajesh. These FDRs were made by the minor son out of his earnings from stage acting. (2 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

- (iv) Sec. 74A(3) lays down the provisions for set-off and carry forward of loss from the activity of owning and maintaining race horses. According to provisions of Section 74A(3), the losses incurred by an assessee from the activity of owning and maintaining race horses cannot be set-off against the income from any other source other than the activity of owning and maintaining race horses. Therefore, set-off and carry forward of loss from the activity of owning and maintaining camels is not covered under the Section 74A(3) since the scope of this section is confined to the activity of owning and maintaining race horse only. The loss from the activity of owning and maintaining camels for races governed by Section 72 if such activity is the business. Accordingly, the loss from the activity of owning and maintaining of camels for races can be set-off against any income of current year except salary and unadjusted amount shall be carried forward for set-off against any business income for a maximum period of 8 assessment years immediately succeeding the assessment year in which the loss was incurred.

- (v) Section 64(1A) provides the provisions for clubbing of minor's income. The section provides that all income accruing or arising to a minor is to be included in the income of his parent, whose total income (excluding the income includible under this section) is greater. However, income derived by the minor from manual work and that from any activity involving his skill, talent or specialized knowledge or experience will not be included in the income of his parent. Since, interest of ₹ 20,000 on bank FDRs received by minor son of Rajesh does not arise to minor on account of his manual work nor by activity involving his skill, talent or specialized knowledge or experience, therefore such interest should be included in income of Mr. Rajesh or Mrs. Rajesh whose income is higher.

2008 - Dec [2] (c) The audited accounts of Vivitha Biochemicals Ltd. for the year ended 31.03.2019 were approved by shareholders in the general meeting of the company. The company has been consistently charging depreciation at the rates laid down in the Income-tax Rules, 1962, for the past several years. While calculating the MAT liability under section 115JB of the Income-tax Act, 1961, the Assessing Officer wants to add back a sum of ₹ 33 lacs on the ground that the company has charged depreciation at the rates prescribed under the Income-tax Act, 1961 and not as per the Companies Act. The company seeks your advice for rebutting the aforesaid view. Advise the company suitably. (4 marks)

Answer:

The Supreme Court in Malayala Manorama Co. Ltd. v CIT has dealt with the issue under the predecessor Section 115J however, the ratio of this decision still hold goods. The Supreme Court pointed out:

- (i) The Companies Act, 2013 permits companies to adopt a higher rate of depreciation than one prescribed in Schedule II
- (ii) In its earlier decision in Apollo Tyres Ltd. v CIT the court had held that the assessing officer while computing the income u/s 115J has only the power of examining whether the books of accounts are certified by the authorities under companies act as having been properly maintained in accordance with the companies act. The assessing officer thereafter has the limited power of making increases and reductions as provided in the explanation to the said section. To put differently the assessing officer does not have the jurisdiction to go behind the net profit shown in the profit and loss account except to the extent provided in the explanation to Section 115J. The ratio of this decision still holds well in the impugned situation as well.

The aforesaid decisions should be incorporated in the advice to the taxpayer to show that the AO cannot go behind the audited and approved accounts, except to add back or deduct the items stated in the explanation to Section 115J.

Answer:

Following points are to be noted:

- 1 Since the return of income of assessment year 2019-20 has been filed belatedly, unabsorbed business loss cannot be carried forward. [Section 139(3)]. The prohibition however does not apply to unabsorbed depreciation.
2. While computing deduction u/s 80-IB (I) each industrial undertaking should be considered separately. Loss of one unit cannot be set-off against the profit of another. This is because the deduction is with reference to the undertaking and not the assessee (ii) deduction u/s 80-IB cannot exceed gross total income.

3. Brought forward depreciation should however be adjusted while computing the business income/ gross total income.

The Assessing Officer did not agree and disallowed the interest paid to Mr. Ankit in his individual capacity, under section 40 (b) of the Income-tax Act, 1961. Is the aforesaid interest allowable as deduction in the hands of the firm? (3 marks)

Answer:

According to Explanation 1 to Section 40(b), where one is partner in a firm on behalf or for the benefit of any other person, interest paid by the firm to such individual otherwise than partner in a representative capacity is not taken into account for the purpose of Section 40(b) in view of aforesaid provision, the action of Assessing Officer is not correct.

Accumulated non-speculative business losses — ₹ 3 lakhs

Unabsorbed Depreciation — ₹ 8 lakhs

The company made sufficient profits during the Asst. year 2019-20 to accommodate above allowances.

- (i) State the effect of changes of shareholders in the right of the company to carry forward the losses and unabsorbed depreciation for set off.

(5 marks)

- (ii) Is it different if the shares are acquired by Mr. A & Mrs. A by way of gift ?

(2 marks)

Answer:

- (i) The effect of change in shareholding rights to carry forward and set off of business loss and unabsorbed depreciation are as follows:

M/s. Thakur Company Private Ltd is a closely held company. As per provisions of Section 79 of income tax act, a closely held company will be entitled to carry forward and set off business losses provided the person beneficially holding 51% of voting power on the following two dates are same.

- On the last day of the previous year in which loss was incurred.
- On the last date of the previous year in which the company wants to set off the brought forward loss.

That means. to carry forward of loss, same person on the last day of the year loss are required to beneficially hold 51% of voting power on the last day of the year of setoff.

In the present case 100% beneficial holding on 31st March, 2018 are not the same as on 31st March, 2017 so the business loss of ₹ 3 lakhs can not be carry forward and set off against profit for the Asst. Year 2019-20.

Provisions of Section 79 as above is applicable only in case of carry forward and set off of business loss. Carry forward of unabsorbed depreciation stands in different footings and provisions of Section 79 is not applicable. So M/s Thakur Company Pvt. Ltd is eligible for set off unabsorbed depreciation.

- (ii) Where a change in voting power takes place in a previous year on account of transfer of shares by way of gift, the restriction as per provision in Section 79 is not applicable. So if Mr. A & Mrs. A acquired shares of Ms/. Thakur Company Pvt. Ltd. by way of gift both business loss and accumulated depreciation can be carried forward and set off against profit of the Asst. year 2019-20.

2010 - May [5] (c) Following issues have been raised by Navi Limited in connection with its eligibility for claiming deduction under Section 80-IB for your consideration; and advise, for the assessment year 2019-20.

- (i) It operates two separate industrial units, One unit is eligible for deduction under Section 80-IB, while the other unit is not eligible for such deduction. If the eligible unit has profit and the other unit has loss, should it claim deduction after setting off the loss of the other unit against profit of the eligible unit?
- (ii) Its profit from one unit includes sale of import entitlement, duty drawback and interest from customers for delayed payment. Is it permissible to claim deduction on these items of income?

(7 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

- (i) The issue for consideration is whether the profit of eligible undertaking under Section 80-IB is to be reduced by the loss of non-eligible undertaking for the purpose of computation of deduction under this section. Supreme Court in CIT vs Canara Workshop Private Limited held that in computing the profit qualifying for deduction in respect of an eligible undertaking, the loss incurred by other non-eligible undertakings should not be set off. The income computed before set off should be the basis for determining the amount of deduction.

Therefore, Navi Limited should claim deduction on profit from the eligible unit without setting off loss suffered in the other unit. It may be noted that the aggregate deduction u/c VI A, however cannot exceed the gross total income of the assessee.

- (ii) Under Section 80-IB, where the gross total income of an assessee includes any profits and gains derived from an industrial undertaking referred to in the section, there shall be allowed, in computing the total income of assessee, a deduction from such profits and gains at the specified percentage and for such number of years as specified in the section. Supreme Court in CIT vs. Sterling Foods (1999) held that sale of import entitlement and duty drawback cannot be construed as income derived from industrial undertaking. Therefore, such income cannot be included in computing income for the purpose of deduction under Section 80-IB.

Interest income derived by an undertaking on delayed collection of sale proceeds shall be treated as income derived from the industrial undertaking, and therefore, the same would be eligible for deduction under Section 80-IB.

As further capital was needed by the firm, she further invested ₹ 2 lakhs on 01-05-2018 out of the funds gifted by her husband. The firm paid interest on capital of ₹ 80,000 and share of profit of ₹ 60,000 for the financial year 2018-19.

Advise Mr. F as to the applicability of the provision of Section 64 (1) (iv) and the manner thereof in respect of the above referred transactions.

(5 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

Applicability of provisions of Section 64(1) (iv) of the Act :

As per Section 64 (1) (iv) read with Explanation 2A to Sec. 64 (1), where the assets (in a given case, cash) transferred directly or indirectly by an individual to his spouse, are invested in the nature of capital contribution as partner in a firm, that part of interest receivable by the spouse from the firm in any previous year, which bears the same proportion to the interest receivable by the spouse from the firm as the value of investment as on the first day of the previous year bears to the total investment by way of capital contribution as a partner in the firms on the said day, shall be included in the total income of the individual in that previous year. In short, interest is required to be apportioned to the amount gifted by Mr. E as on the first day of relevant previous year which bears to the total amount of contribution of Mrs. E as on the first day of relevant previous year.

Therefore, the receivable interest is required to be proportioned between Mr. F and Mrs. E as under in view of provisions of S.64 (1) (iv) of the Act :

In the hands of Mrs. E	In the hands of Mr. F
Interest on capital ₹ 80,000/- x 3/5 = 48,000.00	Interest on capital ₹ 80,000/- x 2/5 = 32000.00

It is further pointed out that only interest income is required to be clubbed in the hands of Mr. F and not profit received from the firm which is exempt u/s 10(10) (2A).

Notes:

1. The unabsorbed losses and unabsorbed depreciation of the amalgamating company shall be deemed to be the loss or unabsorbed depreciation of the amalgamated company for the previous year in which the amalgamation was effected and such business loss and unabsorbed depreciation shall be carried forward and set-off by the amalgamated company for a period of 8 years and indefinitely, respectively.
2. The accumulated loss to be carried forward specifically except loss from speculative business. Therefore, speculative loss of ₹ 4 lakhs of ABC Ltd. cannot be carried forward by XYZ Ltd.
3. Section 72(2) provides that where any allowance or part thereof unabsorbed under Section 32(2) (i.e., unabsorbed depreciation or Section 35(4) (i.e., unabsorbed scientific research capital expenditure) is to be carried forward, effect has to be first given to brought forward business losses under Section 72.
4. Section 35(4) provides that the provision of Section 32(2) relating to unabsorbed depreciation shall apply in relation to deduction allowable under Section 35(1)(iv) in respect of capital expenditure on scientific research related to the business carried on by the assessee. Therefore, unabsorbed capital expenditure on scientific research can be set-off and carried forward in the same manner as unabsorbed depreciation.

5. The restriction contained in Section 73 is only regarding set-off of loss computed in respect of speculative business. Such a loss can be set-off only against profits of another speculation business and not non-speculation business. However, There is no restriction under the Income-tax Act, 1961 regarding set-off normal business losses against speculative income. Therefore, normal business losses can be set-off against profits of a speculative business.

Consequently, there is no loss or allowance to be carried forward by XYZ Ltd.

Answer:

According to Section 71, long term capital loss can be set-off against long term capital gain.

According to Section 112A [Added by F.A. 2018 - Applicable from the A.Y. 2019-20] long term capital gain on transfer of

- equity share
- equity oriented unit
- units of business trust

in excess of 1,00,000 shall be taxable @ 10%

Hence, Assessing Officer contends that brought forward LTCCG loss of ₹ 3.2 lacs should be set-off against above LTCCG of ₹ 5.3 lacs is correct. There is no LTCCG loss of assessment year 2018-19 which can be further carried forward.

The assessee has earned profits of ₹ 150 lacs from the business of infrastructural activity (covered by Section 35AD of the Income-tax Act, 1961), ₹ 40 lacs from the logistics support business and ₹ 2 lacs as income from other sources.

Determine the total income of the assessee and the loss, if any, to be carried forward, as per normal provisions. Notes on treatment of each item above, should form part of your answer. Logistics support business is not covered by Section 35AD.

Where the return of income is being filed on 3rd December, 2019, will the right of carry forward of loss be affected? (7 marks)

Answer:

Computation of loss from specified business

As per Section 35AD of the Income-tax Act, 1961,

- the assessee can set off the entire capital expenditure against the profits from this business. However, investment in land and goodwill will not be considered.
- Deduction will not be available under any other provision. This means that depreciation will not be available.

The assessee can set off the income from “specified business” against income from any other “specified business” but not against other business profit.

Such unabsorbed business loss has to be carried forward under Section 73A. The problem clearly states that the cold chain facility business and infrastructure facility business run by the assessee are covered by the term “specified business” of Section 35AD.

In the light of above, total income computed is as under:

Profit and gains of business or profession	(₹ in lacs)

adjusted against its current income.

(3 marks) [CAFG - II New]*Answer:

There is a normal law, that loss can be carried forward by the same assessee who incurs loss. But Section 78(2) provides that where a person carrying on any business or profession has been succeeded in such capacity by another person, otherwise than by inheritance, then successor is not allowed to carry forward the loss of predecessor against his income.

In the given case, business of Mr. X was continued by his legal heirs after his death by constituting a firm. And merely legal heirs constitutes a firm for continuing the business of predecessor would not give impact on his entitlement of carry forward of losses. Therefore firm is entitled to carry forward of loss of ₹ 5 lacs.

2013 - May [7] (b) Mr. A has gifted a house property valued at ₹ 50 lakhs to his wife, Mrs. B, who in turn has gifted the same to Mrs. C, their daughter-in-law. The house was let out at ₹ 25,000 per month throughout the year. Compute total income of Mr. A and Mrs. C.

Will your answer be different if the said property was gifted to his son, husband of Mrs. C? (4 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer :

As per Section 27(I), an individual who transfers otherwise than for adequate consideration any house property to his spouse, not being a transfer in connection with an agreement to live apart, shall be deemed to be the owner of the house property so transferred.

Therefore, in this case, Mr. A would be the deemed owner of the house property transferred to his wife Mrs. B without consideration.

As per Section 64(1)(vi), income arising to the son's wife from assets transferred, directly or indirectly, to her by an individual otherwise than for adequate consideration would be included in the total income of such individual.

Income from let-out property is ₹ 2,10,000 [i.e., ₹ 3,00,000, being the actual rent calculated at ₹ 25,000 per month less ₹ 90,000, being deduction under section 24 @ 30% of ₹ 3,00,000]

In this case, income of ₹ 2,10,000 from let-out property arising to Mrs. C, being Mr. A's son's wife, would be included in the income of Mr. A, applying the provisions of section 27(I) and Section 64(1)(vi). Such income would, therefore, not be taxable in the hands of Mrs. C.

In case the property was gifted to Mr. A's son, the clubbing provisions under section 64 would not apply, since the son is not a minor child. Therefore, the income of ₹ 2,10,000 from letting out of property gifted to the son would be taxable in the hands of the son. It may be noted that the provisions of section 56(2)(vii) would not be attracted in the hands of the recipient of house property, since the receipt of property in each case was from a "relative" of such individual. Therefore, the stamp duty value of house property would not be chargeable to tax in the hands of the recipient of immovable property, even though the house property was received by her or him without consideration.

Note:

The first part of the question can also be answered by applying the provisions of Section 64(1)(vi) directly to include the income of ₹ 2,10,000 arising to Mrs. C in the hands of Mr. A. [without first applying the provisions of Section 27(I) to deem Mr. A as the owner of the house property transferred to his wife Mrs. B without consideration], since Section 64(1)(vi) speaks of clubbing of income arising to son's wife from indirect transfer of assets to her by her husband's parent, without consideration. Gift of house property by Mr. A to Mrs. C, via Mrs. B, can be viewed as an indirect transfer by Mr. A to Mrs. C.

2013 - June [8] (a) “VKS Infra Pvt. Ltd.” is an Indian company engaged in undertaking infrastructure projects. In April, 2018, it has received a big highway project for expansion of existing roads in one area and also for relaying of existing roads in another area. There is an apprehension in the mind of the managing director of the company that these projects will not entitle the company to claim deduction under section 80 IB(4). Advise the company suitably. (5 marks)

Answer:

Widening /re-laying of existing roads whether eligible for benefit of Section 80-IB(4)

As per Section 80IA(1) of the Income Tax Act, 1961, where the gross total income of an assessee includes any profits and gains derived by an undertaking or an enterprise from any business referred to in sub-section (4), there shall, in accordance with the subject to the provisions of this section, be allowed, in computing the total income of the assessee, a deduction of an amount equal to hundred per cent of the profits and gains derived from such business for 10 consecutive assessment years.

Sub-section (4)(I) provides for a deduction to an undertaking engaged in developing, or operating and maintaining, or developing, operating and maintaining any infrastructure facility subject to satisfaction of the conditions laid down in the Section.

The explanation to subsection 80IA(4)(I) states that for the purpose of this clause, infrastructure facility means inter alia:

- (a) a road including toll road, a bridge or a rail system;
- (b) a highway project including housing or other activities being an integral part of the highway project;"

References were received by the Board as to whether widening of existing roads constitutes creation of new infrastructure facility for the purpose of Section 80IA(4)(I).

The issue has been examined by the Board. In Circular 4/2010 dt. 18th May 2010, it was decided that widening of an existing road by constructing additional lanes as a part of a highway project by an undertaking would be regarded as a new infrastructure facility for the purpose of Section 80IA(4).

However, simply re-laying of an existing road would not be classifiable as a new infrastructure facility for this purpose. Advise should be tendered on the above lines.

From other non-speculation business:

Business income before depreciation	22

How will the brought forward items be set off in the assessment year 2019-20 and what is the business income for the assessment year 2019-20? (5 marks)

Answer:

Set off and carry forward of business loss

In terms of Section 80 and 139(3), for carrying forward business loss covered by Section 72, the return of income should be filed within the due date as per Section 139(1). Hence the assessee cannot carry forward the non-speculation business loss of ₹ 7 lacs.

Unabsorbed depreciation is not covered by above and hence the unabsorbed depreciation of ₹ 8 lacs can be carried forward and the same will be deemed to be current depreciation.

The need for filing of return within the time stipulated u/s 139(1) enjoined by Sec. 139(3) is for the purpose of carrying forward losses under Sections 72(1), 73(2), 74(3) or 74A(3). Loss under Section 73A is not covered.

Hence filing the return of income on 11-1-2019 will not affect the right of carry forward of loss as per Section 73A, which covers loss from specified business u/s 35AD.

Loss from specified business covered by Sec. 35AD can be set off only against profit from specified business covered by Sec. 35AD.

The gifted amounts were invested as fixed deposits in banks by Mrs. Vasudevan and wife of Mrs. Vasudevan's brother on 01-8-2018 at 9% interest. Discuss the consequences of the above under the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 in the hands of Mr. Vasudevan and his brother. (4 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer:

In the given case, Mr. Vasudevan gifted a sum of ₹ 6 lakhs to his brother's wife on 14.06.2018 and simultaneously, his brother gifted a sum of ₹ 5 lakhs to Mr. Vasudevan's wife on 12.07.2018. The gifted amounts were invested as fixed deposits in banks by Mrs. Vasudevan and his brother's wife. These transfers are in the nature of cross transfers. Accordingly, the income from the assets transferred would be assessed in the hands of the deemed transferor because the transfers are so intimately connected to form part of a single transaction and each transfer constitutes consideration for the other by being mutual or otherwise.

If two transactions are inter-connected and are part of the same transaction in such a way that it can be said that the circuitous method was adopted as a device to evade tax, the implication of clubbing provisions would be attracted. It was so held by the Apex Court in CIT vs. Keshavji Morarji (1967) 66 ITR 142.

Accordingly, the interest income arising to Mrs. Vasudevan in the form of interest on fixed deposits would be included in the total income of Mr. Vasudevan and interest income arising in the hands of his brother's wife would be taxable in the hands of Mr. Vasudevan's brother as per Section 64(1).

This is because both Mr. Vasudevan and his brother are the indirect transferors of the income to their respective spouses with an intention to reduce their burden of taxation.

Note :

In the hands of Mr. Vasudevan's brother, interest income earned by his spouse on fixed deposit of ₹ 5 lakhs alone would be included and not the interest income on the entire fixed deposit of ₹ 6 lakhs, since the cross transfer is only to the extent of ₹ 5 lakhs.

Hence, unabsorbed depreciation should be carried forward to the subsequent year to be set off against eligible business income of the assessee of that year.

(4 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer:

In CIT v. Swarnagiri Wire Insulations Pvt. Ltd. (2012) 349 ITR 245, the Karnataka High Court observed that it is a generally accepted principle that the deeming provision of a particular section cannot be breathed into another section. Therefore, the deeming provision contained in Section 80-IA(5) cannot override the provisions of Section 70(1).

In this case, X Ltd. had incurred loss in eligible business (power generation) on account of claiming depreciation of ₹ 120 lacs. Hence, Section 80-IA becomes insignificant, since there is no profit from which this deduction can be claimed.

It is thereafter that Section 70(1) comes into play, whereby an assessee is entitled to set off the losses from one source against income from another source under the same head of income. Accordingly, X Ltd. is entitled to the benefit of set off of loss of ₹ 20 lacs (representing balance depreciation not set-off) pertaining to Unit N engaged in eligible business of power generation against profit of ₹ 70 lacs of Unit Y carrying on non-eligible business. Therefore, the net profit of ₹ 50 lacs would be taxable in the A.Y.2019-20. However, once set-off is allowed under Section 70(1) against income from another source under the same head, a deduction to such extent is not possible in any subsequent assessment year i.e., the loss (arising on account of balance depreciation of eligible business) so set-off under Section 70(1) has to be first deducted while computing profits eligible for deduction under Section 80-IA in the subsequent year. Accordingly, in the A.Y.2020-21, the net profits of Unit N has to be reduced by ₹ 20 lacs for computing the profits eligible for deduction under Section 80-IA in that year. The action of the Assessing Officer in not permitting set-off of loss of eligible business against profits of non-eligible business in this case is, therefore, not correct.

Compute "book profit" under section 115JB of the Income-tax Act, 1961 for the Assessment Year 2019-20. (10 marks)

Answer:

(a) As per Section 11(1A) of the Income-tax Act, where a capital asset held under trust is transferred and if only a part of the net consideration is utilised for acquiring the new capital asset, so much of such capital gain as is equal to the amount, if any by which the amount so utilised exceeds the cost of the transferred asset shall be considered to have been applied for the objects of the trust and the exemption shall be restricted to such amount.

In the given case, the amount of capital gain = ₹ 50 lacs - ₹ 10 lacs = ₹ 40 lacs. The amount considered to be applied for the objects of the trust and exempted under Section 11(1A) = ₹ 41 lacs - ₹ 10 lacs = ₹ 31 lacs.

The balance capital gain of ₹ 9 lacs shall be treated as part of other income. Exemption, however, can also be claimed by utilizing 85% of the taxable capital gain towards the objects of the trust within the previous year.

Compute the total income of the assessee for the assessment year 2019-20.
(7 marks)

Answer:

Assessment year 2018-19

For the assessment year 2018-19, the return of income was filed on 21-12-2018, which is beyond the due date specified u/s 139(1).

Hence, the assessee cannot carry forward business loss [as per Section 80 read with Section 139(3)].

The assessee can however carry forward the unabsorbed depreciation to future years, since there is no requirement that return of income should be filed within the date specified u/s 139(1) for the same.

As per Section 80AC, where the return of income is filed beyond the due date, the assessee will not be entitled to claim deduction u/s 80-IB. So this benefit will also lapse.

Assessment year 2019-20

Since the return of income will be filed within the due date, the assessee can claim deduction u/s 80-IB.

2015 - May [7] (b) Examine the correctness of the claim made by the assessee in the below mentioned case.

Mr. Johny has business income of ₹ 4,28,000 and salary income of ₹1,30,000 for the financial year 2018-19. His minor son has agricultural income of ₹ 1,00,000 for the same year. The Assessing Officer clubbed the agricultural income of minor son for determining the income tax liability of Mr. Johny.

Mr. Johny contends that the agricultural income is exempt U/s. 10(1) and not covered by Section 2(24) hence should not be clubbed even for adopting higher income-tax rate.

(4 marks) [CAFG - II New]

Answer:

The facts of the case are similar to Suresh Chand Talera v. Union of India (2006) 282 ITR (341) (M.P).

In that case, the High Court observed that the definition of income under Section 2(24) is inclusive and not exhaustive. Hence, the fact that agricultural income has not been specified as one of the items in Section 2(24) does not mean that agricultural income is not included in the word "income" wherever the word "income" has been used in the Act.

Section 10 provides that in computing the income of the previous year of a person, any income falling in any of the clauses mentioned therein shall not be included. The first clause mentioned therein is "agricultural income".

Thus, Section 10 makes it clear that agricultural income is income but by express provision therein, agricultural income has been excluded from the total income of an assessee for the purpose of levy of income-tax.

However, Section 4(1), which is the charging Section, provides that while the total income of a person is to be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income-tax Act, 1961, the rate or rates at which income-tax will be paid on such income for any assessment year will be stipulated in the relevant Finance Act. The Annual Finance Act provides that the net agricultural income shall be taken into account in the manner provided therein for the purpose of determining the rates of income-tax applicable to the income of the assessee.

Therefore, agricultural income of the minor child of the assessee has to be included in the income of the assessee for the purpose of determining the rate of income-tax applicable to the income of the assessee.

Applying the rationale of the above ruling, the contention of Mr. Johnny is incorrect. The agricultural income of his minor son, has to be included in the income of Mr. Johnny for rate purposes, since the phrase "income as arises or accrues to his minor child" used in Section 64(1A) includes agricultural income also.

- (a) Benefit of registration to trust for earlier year:

As per, the finance (No. 2) Act, 2014, with effect from 1st October, 2014 in case where a trust or institution has been granted registration under Section 12AA, the benefit of Section 11 and 12 shall be available in respect of any income held under trust in any assessment proceeding for an earlier assessment year which is pending before the assessing officer as on the date.

However, the above benefits are subject to condition that the objects and activities of the trust or institution in the relevant earlier assessment year should be the same as those on the basis of which registration under Section 12AA was granted.

Therefore, Roy Charitable Trust should be advised to claim the benefit of Section 11 in respect of income from property held in trust and voluntary contribution received during the previous year 2017-18 and 2018-19 in assessment proceeding for assessment year 2019-2020, if the above condition is satisfied.

Brett Lee claims that no expenditure was incurred for earning exempt income during the year. The Assessing Officer is not satisfied with the claim of the assessee.

Compute the total income of Brett Lee for the assessment year 2019-20.

(6 marks)

Answer:

Expenditure in relation to exempt income:

Expenditure incurred in relation to exempt income is not allowed as deduction while computing the income chargeable to tax, as per Section 14A of the Income-tax Act, 1961. However, if the Assessing Officer is not satisfied with the correctness of the claim of the assessee in relation to exempt income or with the claim made by the assessee that no expenditure was incurred in relation to exempt income, he shall determine the amount of expenditure in relation to such income in the manner provided in Rule 8D.

Computation of amount as per rule 8D

Particulars	₹
Amount of expenditure directly relating to exempt income:
Consultancy charges paid to investment consultant	8,000
Calculation of interest expenditure attributable to exempt income
Interest expenditure × Average value of investment on the first and last day of the previous year ÷ Average of total assets of the assessee appearing in the balance sheet on the first and last day of the previous year i.e. ₹ 1,00,000 × 9,00,000 ÷ 45,00,000	20,000
Half percent of the average value of investment, income from which is exempt from tax i.e. ½% of the average value of investment in shares. i.e. ₹ 9,00,000 × ½%	4,500
Total amount of expenditure in relation to exempt income	32,500
Computation of total income
Income from business	6,00,000
Add: Amount of expenditure added U/s. 14A	32,500
Total Income	6,32,500

Further an assumption is to be made as follows:

Since it has been stated in the question that Mr. Brett Lee claims no expenditure was incurred by him for exempt income earned, it is logical to assume that total interest expenditure of ₹ 1,00,000 has been deducted to arrive at the income from business of ₹ 6,00,000. The amount of interest expenditure in relation to exempt income has been added back to compute the resultant total income.

2015 - Dec [6] (b) Rishikesh Fertilizers Ltd., seeks your opinion on the deductibility of the following items debited to the Profit and Loss Account, while computing its business income:

- (i) ₹ 50,000 paid as secret commission to a Government department official, an unidentified person. The payment has been approved by the Board as a normal trade practice.
  - (ii) ₹ 2 lakhs incurred towards issue of convertible debentures, the debentures being convertible into equity shares after one year from the date of issue.
  - (iii) ₹ 1 lakh paid to a local gang for rescuing an executive director who was kidnaped.
- (7 marks)

Answer:

- (i) Any expenditure incurred in contravention of any law, for the time being in force, is not deductible U/s 37 of the Income-tax Act, 1961, even though it is incurred wholly and exclusively for the purposes of business.

Secret commission paid to a Government official is covered by the above and hence is not deductible. It is not relevant that it is a trade practice or has been approved by the Board. This is not secret commission to some general public, but to a Govt. official, which is not ethical.

Further, since no tax would be deducted at source (as the payee is not identified), the provisions of Section 40(a)(ia) will also be attracted. Disallowance will arise on this count also.

Some of the earlier decisions rendered on the issue holding that secret commission might be allowable, will not hold good after the introduction of Section 40(a)(ia).

- (ii) Expenses relating to issue of convertible debentures is in respect of a loan and cannot be equated to expenses incurred for issue of share capital. It is a deductible expenditure.

It is immaterial that the debentures are convertible into equity shares after one year. Hence ₹ 2 lacs can be allowed as deduction.

In the case of CIT Vs. Secure Meters 321 ITR 611 (SC) the Supreme Court has clearly held that expenditure on issue of debentures, whether partly or fully convertible, is a deductible expenditure.

- (iii) Ransom money paid to for rescuing the executive director, who was kidnaped, cannot be said to be an expenditure incurred in contravention of any law, for the time being in force and not deductible U/s 37 of the Income-Tax Act, 1961.

Therefore the said payment can be claimed as deduction, being a payment made wholly and exclusively in connection with the business. Without the executive director, the functioning of the company will be affected and hence expenditure incurred to rescue him will be deductible.

Similar view was taken in CIT Vs. Khem Chand Moti Lal Jain, Tobacco Products (P) Limited 340 ITR99 (P&H).

The payment was towards use of land in the airport besides technical services involving navigation, security and other ancillary services. The tax was deducted at source under Section 194C at 2%. The Income Tax Officer (TDS) held that the assessee ought to have deducted tax under Section 194-I i.e. towards rent. Discuss the consequence of the action of the Assessing Officer and also the correctness of such decision. (4 marks)

(ii) Venkat & Co. a partnership firm was constituted on 01.06.2017 with four partners. All the partners contributed ₹ 10 lakhs each by way of capital. While examining the return of the Assessment Year 2018-19, the Assessing Officer verified the source of investments made by the partners. Not satisfied with the explanation of the partners/firm, the Assessing Officer assessed to tax ₹ 25 lakhs as unexplained cash credit under Section 68 of the Act in the hands of the firm. Decide the validity of the action of the Assessing Officer. (4 marks)

Answer:

(i) Japan Airlines Co. Ltd. V. Commissioner of Income Tax [2015] (Supreme Court)

Landing and Parking charges payable by Airlines in respect of aircrafts are not for the 'use of land' per se but the charges are in respect of number of facilities provided by the Airport Authority of India. Thus landing and parking charges payable by Airlines would attract TDS under Section 194C and not under Section 194-I.

The Supreme Court held as under:

(1) We are convinced that the charges which are fixed by the AAI for landing and take-off services as well as for parking of Aircrafts are not for the 'use of land'. These charges are for services and facilities offered in connection with the aircraft operation at the airport. These services include providing of air traffic services, found safety services, aeronautical communication facilities, installation and maintenance of navigational aids and meteorological services at the airport.

- (2) Therefore, it is held that the charges are not for use of land per se and therefore, it cannot be treated as 'Rent' within meaning of Section 194-I of the Act. However, TDS shall be deducted under Section 194C.

Hence, the action of the assessing officer is not correct.

- (ii) No, the action of the Assessing Officer is not valid.

Amount brought as capital in the firm could not be assessed as cash credit in the firm. Merely due to partners failed to prove source of amount introduction as capital in their individual hands, such deposit to be added in the hands of partners only and not in the hands of assessee firm.

However, the Assessing Officer may convey such information to the jurisdiction officer of the partners and explained credit may be added to the income of the partners concerned in terms of Section 69.

2017 - June [5] (b) Brahma Ltd., discarded certain number of assets forming part of a block of assets during the previous year 2018-19. The Assessing Officer has disallowed the depreciation pertaining to such discarded assets. Discuss whether such action of the Assessing Officer is tenable in law.

(c) Maushyaputra Ltd., issued debentures of ₹ 5 crores, redeemable after six years. The debenture holders were given an option of taking up the interest for all the six years upfront, at a discount. All the debenture holders opted for the same. The company complied with the TDS formalities. The Assessing Officer is of the view that only one-sixth of the interest is allowable in the current year.

Is the contention of the Assessing Officer correct in law?

(5 marks)

Answer:

(b) The action of the Assessing Officer is tenable in law:

Provisions of Section 32 regarding claim of depreciation are given herein below:

WDV of Block of Asset as on 1 st day of the previous year	xxx
Add: Assets acquired/purchased during the previous year	xxx
	xxx
Less: Assets sold/disposed off during the previous year	xxx
WDV (Balance) of computation of Depreciation at prescribed rate	xxx

Note -1:

Depreciation on Discarded Assets:

The issue under consideration is whether disallowance of depreciation made by the AO in arriving at the WDV of the block of asset, with regard to the discarded asset is justified.

One of the conditions for claim of depreciation under section 32 is that the eligible asset must have been put to use for the purpose of business or profession.

The other aspect to be considered is whether merely discarding an obsolete machinery, which is physically available, will attract the expression "moneys payable appearing in section 43(6), so as to deduct its value from the WDV of the block.

The expression used for the purposes of the business in section 32 when used with respect to discarded machinery would mean the use in the business not only in the relevant financial year/previous year but also in the earlier financial years.

The discarded machinery may not be actually used in the relevant previous year but depreciation can be claimed as long as it was used for the purposes of business in the earlier year provided in block continues to exist in the relevant previous year.

Therefore, the condition for claiming depreciation in respect of the discarded machine would be satisfied if it was used in the earlier previous years for the business.

Coming to the issue of “moneys payable” as per section 43(6), the machinery has not been sold as machinery or scrap or disposed off, and it continues to exist, hence it will not form part of “moneys payable” which alone is deductible while computing the WDV of the block to which it belongs.

The disallowance by the AO is hence not tenable in law,

Such a view was taken in the case of CIT V. Yamaha Motor India Pvt. Ltd. (2010) 328 ITR 297 (Del.).

(c) The contention of the assessing officer is not correct in law:

Taparia Tools Ltd. V. Joint commissioner of Income Tax (2015) 372 ITR 605 (SC) facts of the case:

The assessee issued non-convertible debenture and gave two options as regards payment of interest to the subscribers/debenture holders, they could either receive interest periodically (i.e. half yearly) at 18% per annum over a period of five years, or opt for one time upfront payment of ₹ 55 per debenture. In second option, ₹ 55 per debenture was to be paid immediately upfront on account of interest. At the end of debenture period of five years, the debentures were to be redeemed at the face value of ₹ 100. The said upfront payment of interest on debentures were shown by the assessee as deferred revenue expenditure in the books of accounts to be written off over a period of five years. Notwithstanding this accounting treatment given to the payment qua-interest, assessee claimed such expenditure as fully deductible expenditure in the first year, being the year of payment. The Assessing Officer, However, treated the expenditure as “Deferred Revenue Expenditure” to be allowed over the tenure of debenture and hence, allowed only one fifth of the payment made and disallowed the balance of claim.

Supreme Court’s Observations: The Supreme Court observed that while examining the allowability of deduction, the Assessing Officer as to consider the genuineness of borrowing. Under Section 36(1)(iii), any amount paid on account of interest is in admissible deduction, if the capital was borrowed by the assessee and the borrowings was for the purpose of business or profession. The Supreme Court opined that once genuineness was proved and conditions of Section 36(1)(iii) read with Section 43(2) were satisfied, the benefit of deduction in the year in which the amount of interest was actually paid or incurred can not be denied. In the present case, the Assessing Officer has not disputed the issues of debenture and use of funds for business purpose.

Moreover, the Supreme Court also noted that there is no concept of deferred revenue expenditure in the Income Tax Act, 1961, except under specified Section such as Section 35D meant for amortization over a period of time. Normally, revenue expenditure in the year in which it is incurred. However, if the assessee wants to spread the expenditure over a period of ensuring years, it can be allowed only if the principle of matching concept is satisfied. Entries in books of accounts are not conclusive and the matter has to be examined on the touch stone of the provisions contained in the act.

The Supreme Court took note that the assessee had issued debentures with two options for payment of interest and if the interest is allowed by spread over it would amount to treating both the methods of interest payment at par, which was clearly un-sustainable by discharging the liability in the first year itself, the assessee had benefitted by making payment of a lesser amount of interest in comparison to the interest which was payable under the first option over a period of five years. When the assessee did not seek spread over of expenditure and had claimed the entire expenditure in the same year and return was filed in that manner. The assessing officer was bound to carry out the assessment by applying the provisions of the act and not to go beyond the said return. The statute enables an entitled the assessee to claim the entire upfront interest paid in the year of payment.

Supreme Court Decision: The Supreme Court, accordingly, held that the assessee would be entitled to deduction of the entire upfront interest paid in the same year in which amount was actually paid.

Conclusion: On the basis of above decision of Supreme Court. The contention of the Assessing Officer is not correct in law.

2017 - June [7] (a) Mr. Ram gave cash gift of ₹ 10 lakhs to his younger brother Mr. Bharat's wife Smt. Mandavi. On the same date Mr. Bharat gave gift to wife of Mr. Ram viz, Smt. Sita a vacant land measuring 2000 sq.ft. The stamp duty valuation of the land on the date of gift was ₹ 8 lakhs.

Smt. Mandavi invested ₹ 8 lakhs in bank fixed deposit fetching interest at 7% per annum and commenced a business with the balance of ₹ 2 lakhs along with her own capital of ₹ 3 lakhs. The profit for the year from the business amounts to ₹ 1,50,000.

Determine the tax implication of the above transaction in the hands of all the parties. Would your answer be different if all of them are non-relatives?

(8 marks)

Answer:

As per Section 56(2)(vii), the following shall be taxable under the head "income from other sources".

When an individual or a HUF receives, in any previous year, from any person or persons on or after the 1st day of October 2009:

- (a) any sum of money, without consideration, the aggregate value of which exceeds ₹ 50,000, the whole of the aggregate value of such sum;
- (b) any immovable property, -
  - (i) without consideration, the stamp duty value of which exceeds ₹ 50,000, the stamp duty value of such property;
  - (ii) for a consideration which is less than the stamp duty value of the property by an amount exceeding ₹ 50,000, the stamp duty value of such property as exceeds such consideration;
  - (iii) Stamp duty value exceeds 105% of consideration.

Provided that where the date of the agreement fixing the amount of consideration for the transfer of immovable property and the date of registration are not the same, the stamp duty value on the date of agreement may be taken for the purpose of the sub-clause.

Provided further that the said proviso shall apply only in a case where the amount of consideration referred to therein, or a part thereof, has been paid by any mode other than cash on or before the date of agreement for the transfer of such immovable property.

- (c) any property, other than immovable property:
- (i) without consideration, the AGGREGATE fair market, value of which exceeds ₹ 50,000, the whole of the aggregate fair market value of such property;
  - (ii) for a consideration which is less than the AGGREGATE fair market value of the property by an amount exceeding ₹ 50,000, the aggregate fair market value of such property as exceeds such consideration.

Provided further that this clause shall not apply to any sum of money or any property received from any relative.

Explanation: For the purpose of this clause, “relative” means:

- (i) spouse of the individual;
- (ii) brother or sister of the individual;
- (iii) brother or sister of the spouse of the individual;
- (iv) brother or sister of either of the parents of the individual;
- (v) any lineal ascendent or descendent of the individual;
- (vi) any lineal ascendent or descendent of the spouse of the individual.
- (vii) spouse of the person referred to in clause (ii) to (vi)

In view of the above legal position, in the present case, the gift of ₹ 10 lakhs to his younger brother Mr. Bharat’s wife Smt. Mandvi by Mr. Ram is exempt from Tax, since the brother’s wife is relative within the definition of relative as specified under Section 56(2)(vii).

Where the brother of Ram i.e. Mr. Bharat gifted vacant land to Smt. Sita (wife of Mr. Ram), Section 56(2)(vii) is not attracted in the hands of Smt. Sita. Since she falls in the definition of relative.

In the present case, there is an indirect transfer of asset by Mr. Ram to his brother's wife Smt. Mandvi i.e. ₹ 10 lakhs without any consideration. The income from FD interest received by Smt. Mandvi and Income from business shall be clubbed with the income Mr. Bharat.

Amount to be clubbed:

Interest on FD (8,00,000 × 7%)	=	56,000
Business Income $\left(1,50,000 \times \frac{2,00,000}{5,00,000}\right)$	=	60,000
		1,16,000

It is assumed that amount gifted on 1st day of April, 2018.

(b) The issue under consideration is whether remuneration paid to working partners as per the partnership deed can be considered as unreasonable and excessive for attracting disallowance under Section 40A(2) of the Income Tax Act, 1961 even though the same is within the limits prescribed under Section 40(b)(v).

The facts of the case are similar to the facts in CIT v. Great city Manufacturing Co., wherein the above issue came up before the Allahabad High Court.

The High Court observed that Section 40(6) prescribes the limits of remuneration to working partners and deduction is available upto such limits while computing the business income. If the remuneration paid is within the ceiling limit provided under 40(b)(v), then, recourse to provisions of Section 40A(2) cannot be taken.

The firm has unabsorbed losses to the tune of ₹ 10 lakhs. Against the individual business income earned by A, the losses of the erstwhile firm were set off. This has been disallowed by the AO. Is this disallowance justified? (4×3=12 marks)

Answer:

(a) Issue involved

The issue under consideration is whether the transfer fees received by a co-operative housing society from its incoming and outgoing members is chargeable to tax.

Provisions involved

Any transfer fee received by a co-operative housing society, whether from outgoing or from incoming members, are not liable to tax in the hands of the co-operative society on account of the principle of mutuality, since the predominant activity of such co-operative society is maintenance of property of the society and there is no taint of commerciality, trade or business.

Analysis

Under the bye-laws of the society, charging of transfer fees had no element of trading or commerciality. Both the incoming and outgoing members have to contribute to the common fund of the assessee. The amount paid was to be exclusively used for the benefit of the members as a class.

Further, Section 28(iii), which provides that income derived by a trade, professional or similar association from specific services performed for its members shall be treated as business income, can have no application since the co-operative housing society is not a trade or professional association.

Conclusion

Therefore, the action of the Assessing Officer, in bringing to tax the transfer fees under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession" in the hands of Bharati Co- operative Housing Society is not correct.

Refer the decision in Sind Co-operative Housing Society v. ITO (2009) 317ITR47.

(b) Issue involved

The issue under consideration in this case is whether guarantee commission paid by a company to its employee directors is deductible as its business expenditure, where such guarantee was given by the employee directors to the bank for enabling credit facility to the company, and whether it can be contended that the same would have been payable as dividend had it not been paid as commission.

Provisions involved

In the absence of any specific disallowance, an expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively for the purpose of business has to be allowed under Section 37. It has also to be seen whether such payment was a device used to outwit the provisions of Section 115-0, which requires payment of dividend distribution tax.

Analysis

The directors of the company are employees of the company and are entitled to remuneration for the services rendered as employees. In this case, they also provided personal guarantee to banks, since it was a pre-condition laid down by the bank to provide financial assistance to the company. This act of providing personal guarantee was clearly beyond the scope of their services as employees of the company.

The assessee-company, in its commercial wisdom, passed a resolution resolving that the directors be paid commission for providing their personal guarantees for the financial assistance availed by the assessee-company from the bank. In such a case, the Assessing Officer only has to determine whether the transactions are real and genuine.

As regards Section 36(1)(ii), the recipient directors were not entitled to receive the amount as commission in lieu of dividend. Dividend is paid to all the shareholders and the recipient directors were not the only shareholders of the company. The payment of commission, hence, cannot be taken as payment of dividend, since payment of dividend would result in payment to all the shareholders and not to select shareholders.

Conclusion

Therefore, the action of the Assessing Officer, holding that if the amount was not paid to them as commission, the same would have been payable as dividend, and contending that the company avoided dividend distribution tax under Section 115-0 which was otherwise payable, is not valid.

(c) Issue involved

The issue under consideration in this case is whether the loss suffered by an erstwhile partnership firm, which was dissolved, can be carried forward for set-off by the individual partner who took over the business of the firm as a sole proprietor, considering the succession as a succession by inheritance.

Provisions involved

Section 78(2) deals with carry forward of losses in case of succession of business. It provides that only the person who has incurred the losses, and no one else, would be entitled to carry forward the same and set it off. An exception provided thereunder is in the case of succession by inheritance.

Analysis

Upon dissolution, the partnership firm, RR & Co. ceased to exist. Also, the partnership firm, RR & Co. and the sole proprietorship concern are two separate and distinct units for the purpose of assessment. The income earned by the sole proprietor would include his share of loss as an individual but not the loss suffered by the erstwhile partnership firm in which he was a partner.

The exception given in Section 78(2), permitting carry forward of losses by the successor in case of inheritance, is not applicable in the present case since the partnership firm was dissolved and ceased to continue. Taking over of business by a partner cannot be considered as a case of inheritance due to death as per the law of succession.

Conclusion

The action of the Assessing Officer in disallowing the claim of set-off of losses suffered by the erstwhile partnership firm RR & Co. against the income earned as an individual proprietor is, therefore, correct.

2018 - Dec [5] Answer any four of the following [Your answer should be under the following heads: (i) Issue involved (ii) Brief discussion on provisions applicable to the issue (iii) Analysis of the issue involved, and (iv) Conclusion [Citation of case law is NOT required]:

- (a) Ram and Rahim were Executive Directors of Saraswati Tea Pvt. Ltd. In respect of a bank loan, they gave their personal guarantee. The assessee-company paid them guarantee commission of ₹ 1 lakh each. The Assessing Officer feels that this is a disguised payment of dividend under Section 2(22) and is not a commission which is deductible as business expenditure. He has disallowed the same. Is the action of the AO valid in law?
- (b) Govinda and Vaamana were partners in a firm, which got dissolved consequent to the demise of Govinda. The firm had unabsorbed losses. Vaamana, who took over the business, has set off the said loss in his personal hands in the subsequent year. Such set off is not allowed by the Assessing Officer. Is his action correct?
- (c) MNC Ltd. is engaged in the business of managing and operating hotels. The assessee allowed the employees to accept tips from customers. Some customers paid the bill and tips to the employees through credit card. The assessee, being employer collected the amounts and disbursed tips to the employees on monthly basis. The assessee did not deduct tax at source on the said payments as the amounts were not in the nature of salary. Does the action of the assessee satisfy the legal requirements?

- (d) Dempo Ltd. transferred its factory building for ₹ 65 lakhs. The company owned only one such building in the block of assets. The written down value of the factory building was ₹ 13.95 lakhs. The company acquired the building 10 years ago for ₹ 40 lakhs. It deposited ₹ 50 lakhs in REC bonds within one month after the transfer of factory building. The company claimed exemption under Section 54EC. Is the claim of the company tenable in law?
- (e) Jayakrishna Flour Mills Pvt. Ltd., has derived an income of ₹ 1.2 crore from generation and distribution of electricity, using windmills. Such profits have been claimed as 100% deduction under Section 80-IA. The assessee has other income from certain other activities also, which form part of the total income. The assessee has paid interest of ₹ 60 lakhs to a bank in respect of the term loans on the windmills. The Assessing Officer wants to invoke the provisions of Section 14A in respect of such interest. Can he do so? (4×4=16 marks)

Answer:

(a) Allowability of commission paid to directors:

Issue involved:

The issue under consideration in this case is whether guarantee commission paid by a company to its employee directors is deductible as its business expenditure, where such guarantee was given by the employee directors to the bank for enabling credit facility to the company, and whether it can be contended that the same would have been payable as dividend had it not been paid as commission.

Provisions applicable:

In the absence of any specific disallowance, expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively for the purpose of business has to be allowed under Section 37. It has also to be seen whether such payment was a device used to outwit the provisions of Section 115-O, which requires payment of dividend distribution tax.

Analysis of the issue:

The directors of the company are employees of the company and are entitled to remuneration for the services rendered as employees. In this case, they also provided personal guarantee to banks, since it was a precondition laid down by the bank to provide financial assistance to the company.

This act of providing personal guarantee was clearly beyond the scope of their services as employees of the company.

The assessee-company, in its commercial wisdom, passed a resolution resolving that the directors be paid commission for providing their personal guarantees for the financial assistance availed by the assessee-company from the bank. In such a case, the Assessing Officer only has to determine whether the transactions are real and genuine.

As regards Section 36(1)(ii), the recipient directors were not entitled to receive the amount as commission in lieu of dividend. Dividend is paid to all the shareholders and the recipient directors were not the only Shareholders of the company. The payment of commission, hence, cannot be taken as payment of dividend, since payment of dividend would result in payment to all the Shareholders and not to Shareholders holding prescribed percentage of the voting power/share capital in the company.

Conclusion:

Therefore, the action of the Assessing Officer, holding that if the amount was not paid to them as commission, the same would have been payable as dividend, and contending that the company avoided dividend distribution tax under Section 115-O which was otherwise payable, is not valid.

Reference may be made to the decision in Controls & Switchgear Contractors Ltd. v. Dy. CIT (2014) 365 ITR 312.

- (b) Issue Involved: Govinda and Vaamana were partner in a firm and dissolved. The firm has unabsorbed losses, Vaamana, who took over the losses, can he setoff the said loss. In his personal hand in subsequent year.

Applicable Provision: Section 78(2), where any person carrying on any business or profession has been succeeded in such capacity by another person otherwise than by inheritance, such other person shall not be allowed to carry forward and set-off against his incurred by the predecessor.

Analysis: The High Court observed that upon dissolution the partnership firm ceased to exist. Also the partnership firm and proprietorship concern are two separate and distinct unit for the purpose of assessment. As per Section 170(1), the partnership firm shall be assessed as such from the 1st April of the previous year till the date of dissolution. Therefore, the Income of the sale proprietorship shall be taxable in the hand of the assessee as an individual.

Section 78(2) however, deals with carry forward of losses in case of succession of business of it provide that only the person who has incurred the losses, and on one would be entitled to carry forward the same and set it off. An exception provided there under is in the case of succession by inheritance.

High Court decision is that, loss suffered by the erstwhile partnership firm before dissolution of the firm can not be carried forward by the success sole proprietor, since it is not a case of succession by inheritance.

Conclusion: Applying the above sector and analysis by High Court in case of Pramod Mittal, Vaama can not set-off the said loss in his personal hand in the subsequent year. Action of Assessing Officer is correct.

(c) TDS on tips collected by a hotel from customers:

Issue involved

The issue is whether tax is required to be deducted at source under Section 192 from the tip (collected from customers) distributed by the assessee-employer. In other words, it has to be seen whether the action of the assessee satisfies the legal requirements.

Provisions applicable

Section 192 provides that tax is to be deducted at source by the employer from salary at the time of payment, if the amount of salary (after permissible deductions under Sections 80C, 80D, etc.) exceeds the maximum amount not chargeable to tax.

Analysis of the issue

The employer has collected the tips paid by the customers voluntarily and was not collected as a matter of right. Further the employment contract does not show the obligation to collect tips and disburse to employees.

There is no vested right in the employee to claim the amount of tips from the employer. It is voluntary payment which cannot be called as salary within the meaning of Section 15.

When an amount is received from a person other than employer, such payment cannot be charged to tax under the head “salaries”. Therefore, the provision of Section 192 does not get attracted.

Conclusion:

The action of non-deduction of tax at source from tips collected from customers and distributed to the hotel employees satisfies the legal requirement.

Reference may be made to the decision in ITC Ltd vs. CIT (TDS) 384 ITR 14 (SC)

- (d) Facts of the Case: The company owned only one such building in the block of assets the company acquired the building 10 years ago, and it transferred its factory building for ₹ 6 lakhs. It deposited ₹ 50 lakhs in REC bonds within one month after the transfer of factory building. The company claimed exemption under Section 54EC. The issue valued in this case whether the claim of the company is tenable in law.

Provisions applicable: In order to avail the exemption under Section 54EC the capital gains have to be invested in a long-term specified asset within a period of six months from the date of transfer. Where the assessee has made the payment within the six month period, and the same is reflected in the bank account and a receipt has been issued as on that date.

Analysis: For the purpose of the provisions of Section 54EC, the date of investment by the assessee must be regarded as the date on which payment is made. Therefore, held that if such payment is within a period of six months from the date of transfer, the assessee would be eligible to claim exemption under Section 54EC.

Conclusion: In view of the above provision the claim of the company is tenable in law.

(e) Issue Invalued : In the present case, the assessee is a pvt. company engaged in generation and distribution of electricity, using windmills. The assessee had claimed deduction under Section 80-IA on such profits. The assessee has paid interest of ₹ 60 lakhs to the bank in respect of the term loans on the windmills. The Assessing Officer wants to invoke the provisions of Section 14A in respect of such interest.

Applicable Provisions: In the case of CIT V. Kribhco the High Court observed that Section 14A is not applicable for deductions, which are permissible and allowed under chapter VIA. Section 14A is applicable only if an income is not included in the total income as per the provisions of chapter III of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Deduction under chapter VIA are different from the exclusion/ exceptions provided under chapter III.

Analysis: The word “do not form part of the total income under this Act” used in Section 14A are significant and important. Income which qualifies for deduction under Section 80C to 80U has to be first included in the total income of the assessee and then allowed as a deduction.

However, income referred to in chapter III do not form part of the total income and therefore, as Section 14A, no deduction shall be allowed in respect to the expenditure incurred by the assessee in relation to such income which does not form part of the total income.

Conclusion: In view of above provision and according to the observation of the High Court, no disallowance can be made under Section 14A in respect of income included in total income is respect of which deduction is allowable under Section 80C to 80U.
