2009 - Dec [5] (c) “Loss under any head of income for any assessment year can be set-off against the income from other heads of income but when it has to be carried forward for being set-off, it can only be set-off from income under the same head.” Explain. (5 marks) [CSEPM - I]

Answer:

Income of a person is computed under five heads. ‘Sources’ of income derived by an individual may be many but yet they could be classified under the same head. For instance, an individual may have a dual employment, yet the income would be classified under the head ‘Salaries’. However, given the mechanism of computing taxable salary income, it would be safe to say that an individual cannot incur losses under this head of income. Consider a situation where Harsh has two properties – one, occupied by him and the other, let out. Harsh pays interest on loan of ₹ 1.50 lakh on the property occupied and derives net rental income of ₹ 1.50 lakh from the let-out property. In case of a self-occupied property, income is computed as nil and interest expenditure results in loss. The loss of ₹ 1.50 lakh can be set off against rent income of ₹ 1.50 lakh; the income chargeable under the head ‘House property’ will be ‘Nil’.

An exception to intra head set off is loss under the head ‘Capital gains’, which may arise from transfer of any capital asset. Long-term capital loss arises from transfer of shares or units where holding period is more than 12 months and in respect of other assets holding period is more than 36 months prior to sale. Transfer of assets held for less than prescribed period results in short-term capital loss. Long-term capital loss cannot be set off against short-term capital gains. but S. Term loss can be adjusted against S.T.C.G or LTCG.

Further, loss incurred from speculation loss (e.g. from shares or commodities) cannot be set off against any other income.

Also, it is unlikely that the benefit of set off of loss under an activity or source will be available, where the income from an activity or source is exempt from taxation.

Illustration 1:

YOYO Ltd. is a company in which the public are not substantially interested, Kunal is a shareholder of the company holding 15% of the equity shares. The accumulated profits of the company as on 31-03-2017 amounted to ₹ 10,00,000/-. The company lent ₹ 1,10,000/- to Kunal by an account payee bank draft on 01-10-2017. The loan was not connected with the business of the company. Kunal repaid the loan to the company by an account payee bank draft on 30-03-2018. Examine the effect of the borrowal and repayment of the loan by Kunal on the computation of his total income for the assessment year 2018-19.

Solution:

As per Section 2(22)(e), any payment by a company, by way of advance or loan to a shareholder, being a person who is the beneficial owner of shares holding not less than 10% of the voting power, shall be treated as deemed dividend to the extent to which the company possesses accumulated profits.

Since, YOYO Ltd. is a company in which the public are not substantially interested i.e. closely held company and the company has accumulated profits of ₹ 10,00,000/- on 31-03-2017, the loan of ₹ 1,10,000/- given by the company to Kunal, who holds more than 10% of the equity shares in the company, shall be treated as deemed dividend in the hands of Kunal as per Section 2(22)(e).

Further, the liability arises the moment the loan is borrowed by the shareholder and it is immaterial whether the loan is repaid before the end of the accounting year or not.

2012 - Dec [3] (a) Discuss with the help of an example, the cascading effect of dividend distribution tax and the remedial action taken by the government. (7 marks)

Answer:

Tax on distributed profits of domestic companies [Section 115-O (1)]:

The Domestic Company shall, in addition to the income tax chargeable in respect of its total income, be liable to pay additional income-tax on any amount declared, distributed or paid by such company by way of dividend (whether interim or otherwise), whether out of current or accumulated profits. Such additional income-tax shall be payable @15% plus surcharge @12% plus Health and Education cess 4% of the amount so declared, distributed or paid.

Tax Rates:

Tax on distributed profit shall be computed after grossing up the tax by using following formula:

Rate of Dividend Distribution Tax before surcharge and cess =

$$\frac{\text{Amount Distributed} \times 15\%}{85\%} = 17.647\%$$

Dividend received from subsidiary company to be reduced from the above dividend to be distributed [Section 115-O (1A)]:

For the purpose of computation of tax on distributed profits, the amount of dividend distributed by the domestic company during the financial year shall be reduced by the following:

- (i) The amount of dividend, if any, received by the domestic company during the financial year, if such dividend is received from its subsidiary and,-
 - (a) where such subsidiary is a domestic company, the subsidiary has paid the tax which is payable under this section on such dividend; or
 - (b) where such subsidiary is a foreign company, the tax is payable by the domestic company under section 115BBD on such dividend; However, the same amount of dividend shall not be taken into account for reduction more than once;
- (ii) The amount of dividend, if any, paid to any person for, or on behalf of, the New Pension System Trust referred to in Section 10(44).

For the purpose of Section 115-O (1A), a company shall be a subsidiary of another company, if such other company holds more than half in nominal value of the equity share capital of the company.

NOTE:

- The above additional tax shall be payable even if no income-tax is payable by such company on its total income. [Section 115-O (2)]
- For the purposes of Section 115-O (1A), a company shall be a subsidiary of another company, if such other company holds more than half in nominal value of the equity share capital of the company.
- Section 115BBD is applicable when an Indian company holds 26% or more in nominal value of equity shares in the foreign company. But for taking the benefit under section 115-O (1A) the Indian company should hold more than half (instead of 26%) in the nominal value of the equity share capital of the company.*

Example:

Where the amount of dividend paid or distributed by a company is ₹ 85, then DDT under the amended provision would be calculated as follows:

7.30Scanner CS Prof. Prog. M-III Paper 7 (2013 Syllabus)

Dividend amount distributed	=	₹ 85
Increase by ₹ 15 [i.e. $(85 \times 0.15) / (1 - 0.15)$]
Increased amount	=	₹ 100
DDT @ 15% of ₹ 100	=	₹ 15
Tax payable u/s 115-O is	=	₹ 15
Dividend distributed to shareholders	=	₹ 85
Effective rate of dividend distribution tax
The effective rate of dividend distribution tax payable shall be as under:
Tax payable u/s 115-O on ₹ 85 distributed	=	₹ 15
Therefore DDT rate on ₹ 100 distributed shall be $15/85 \times 100$	=	17.64706%
Add: Surcharge @ 12% of 17.647	=	2.11764%
Total		19.7647%
Add: Health and Education cess @ 4%	=	0.79058%
Total effective DDT rate applicable	=	20.56%
Hence, the effective rate of DDT has been increased to 20.56% approximately. Alternatively the net amount of dividend paid on distributed should first be grossed up and DDT should be paid @ 17.472% (15%+12%SC+4% H&EC)

Question:

It has received ₹ 5 lakhs as dividend from its subsidiary domestic company on which subsidiary company has already paid D.D.T. Determine the amount of dividend distribution tax payable if such dividend on or after 01-10-2017.

Answer:

Net dividend on which DDT is payable	(₹)
Amount of dividend to be distributed to shareholders	10,00,000
Less: Dividend received from subsidiary company on which DDT has already been paid	5,00,000

Net dividend liable to DDT	5,00,000
Computation of DDT
Alternative 1
₹ 5,00,000 x 20.56% (effective rate)	1,02,800
Alternative 2
Net dividend to be grossed up
₹ 5,00,000 x 100/85
Gross amount ₹ 5,88,235
DDT payable on ₹ 5,88,235 @17.472%	1,02,776

- (i) The provisions of section 115JB are applicable in case of foreign companies. (2 marks)
- (ii) The provisions of dividend distribution tax are applicable to an undertaking or enterprise engaged in developing, operating and maintaining a special economic zone (SEZ). (3 marks)

Answer:

- (i) Section 115JB of the Income Tax Act, 1961, states that all companies having book profits under the Companies Act shall have to pay MAT at the rate of 18.5%, there is no provision restricting its applicability to only domestic companies. Thus, MAT is applicable to all companies irrespective of it being a domestic company or a foreign company.

However, MAT is required to be computed with reference to book profits computed on the basis of profit and loss account prepared as per the Companies Act, and the Companies Act requires only foreign companies, having a place of business within India, to prepare and file its financial statements with the Registrar of Companies. Hence, the MAT provisions shall not apply to foreign companies, which do not have any presence in India.

Alternative Answer:

The Authority for Advance Ruling has delivered the ruling in the case of the Timken Company holding that the provisions of Section 115JB of the Income-tax Act, 1961 levying MAT on the book profit of a company would not apply to a foreign company not having any physical presence in India. Hence, provisions of Section 115JB are applicable only to those foreign companies which have physical presence in India.

(ii) Applicability of DDT on SEZ

Finance Act, 2011 inserted a proviso to sub-section 6 of Section 115-O by which the provisions of Section 115-O shall also be applicable on an enterprise or undertaking engaged in developing, operating and maintaining a SEZ.

However, where, for any assessment year, any loss computed in respect of a speculation business has not been wholly set-off against the profits of another speculation business, it shall be carried forward to the following assessment year and shall be set-off against the profits of any speculation business carried on by him and assessable for the assessment year. This loss can be carried forward to a maximum of four consecutive assessment years immediately succeeding the assessment year for which the loss was first computed.

2009 - Dec [2] (b) Modern Ltd. entered into an agreement with Synergy Ltd. for granting on lease to Synergy Ltd. its 8000 sq. mtr. land lying vacant adjacent to the factory premises of Synergy Ltd. for a period of 12 years commencing from May, 2005. Under the terms of the agreement, Synergy Ltd. had to build a factory building, pay an annual rent @ ₹100 per sq. mtr. of the leased land of 8,000 sq. mtr. and surrender the building to Modern Ltd. at the end of the lease without any consideration. Synergy Ltd. complied with the terms and conditions of the lease agreement.

The depreciated value of the building surrendered and taken possession by Modern Ltd. in May, 2018 was ₹4.22 crore. Accounts department of Modern Ltd. is of the opinion that an equivalent amount is to be taken in the accounts of the year 2018-19 as income received.

Critically examine the matter and offer your comments.

(3 marks)

Answer:

Accounts Department's opinion of Modern Ltd. is incorrect. The depreciated value of the building is of course to be brought into the books of accounts.

However, the equivalent amount viz. ₹ 4.22 crores cannot be treated as income from the business. By its very nature it is a capital receipt and is not a revenue income. The amount cannot be treated as a revenue receipt unless it is conclusively established that this represented deferred rent as the lease rent was unreasonably low. Further Modern Ltd. is not in the business of real estate to treat the benefit as incidental revenue receipt earned during the course of such business.

2013 - Dec [2] (b) X Ltd. charged depreciation on its fixed assets at the rate prescribed in the income tax rules. However, the Assessing Officer disallowed the same and allowed the rate as prescribed in the Companies Act, 2013 for the purpose of computation of book profit under section 115JB for the previous year 2018-19. Examine the legality of action taken by the Assessing Authority. (5 marks)

Answer:

The action of the Assessing Officer is not sustainable in law. He has limited power to look into that the books of account have been properly maintained as per Indian Companies Act, 2013. He does not have the power to question the profit shown in the profit and loss account. This issue was settled by the Supreme Court in Malayala Manorama Co. Ltd. v. CIT (2008) 300 ITR 251. The Apex Court observed that for the purpose of computation of book profit under section 115JB, the Assessing Officer's power is restricted to examining whether the books of account are certified by the authorities under the Companies Act as having been properly maintained in accordance with the Companies Act. Thereafter, he only has the limited power of making additions and deductions as provided for in Explanation 1 to Section 115JB. The Assessing Officer does not have the jurisdiction to go behind the net profit shown in the profit and loss account except to the extent provided in Explanation 1 to Section 115JB. Where an assessee is consistently charging depreciation in its books of account at the rates prescribed in Income-tax Rules and the accounts of the assessee have been prepared and certified as per the provisions of the Companies Act, the Assessing Officer does not have any jurisdiction under section 115JB to rework the net profit of the assessee by substituting the rates of depreciation prescribed under the Companies Act.

Applying the ratio of the Supreme Court decision to this case, it may be concluded that the action of the Assessing Officer is not correct.

2014 - Dec [2A] (Or) (a) You are the Financial Controller in a manufacturing company having turnover exceeding ₹ 800 crore. Write a report for your Managing Director highlighting the legal position pertaining to the following:

- (i) Tax on distributed income by a company for buy-back of unlisted shares.
- (ii) Time-limit for completion of assessment/ reassessment when a reference is made to the Transfer Pricing Officer (TPO).
- (iii) Allowance for acquisition and installation of new plant and machinery under section 32AC.
- (iv) Tax consequences of assignment of keyman insurance policy before maturity by employer-company to its employee. (15 marks)

Answer:

- (i) A company, having distributable reserves, has two options to distribute the same to its shareholders either by declaration and payment of dividends to the shareholders or by way of purchase of its own shares (i.e. buy back of shares) at a consideration fixed by it. In the first case, the payment by company is subject to DDT and income in the hands of shareholders is exempt. In the second case the income is taxed in the hands of shareholder as capital gains.

Unlisted Companies, as part of tax avoidance scheme, are resorting to buy back of shares instead of payment of dividends in order to avoid payment of tax by way of DDT particularly where the capital gains arising to the shareholders are either not chargeable to tax or are taxable at a lower rate.

In order to curb such practice the Act has amended the Act, by insertion of new Chapter XII-DA, to provide as under:

(1) Tax on distributed income to shareholders [Section 115QA]

(A) Additional income tax on buy back of shares [Section 115QA(1)]

(i) In addition to the income tax payable by the company on its total income as per the provisions of the Act, the domestic company shall be liable to pay additional income tax @ 20% on any amount of distributed income paid by the company on buy back of shares not being shares listed on a recognised stock exchange.

(ii) Rate of additional income tax is 20%+12%SC+4%Cess i.e. 23.296%

(B) Additional income tax payable even if the total income of domestic company is exempt [Section 115QA(2)]

Notwithstanding that no income tax is payable by a domestic company on its total income computed in accordance with the provisions of this Act, the tax on the distributed income under section 115QA(1) shall be payable by such company.

(C) Time limit for deposit of additional income tax [Section 115QA(3)]

The principal officer of the domestic company and the company shall be liable to pay the tax to the credit of the Central Government within 14 days from the date of payment of any consideration to the shareholders on buy back of shares referred to in Section 115QA(1).

(D) Additional income tax to be treated as final payment [Section 115QA(4)]

The tax on the distributed income by the company shall be treated as the final payment of tax in respect of the said income and no further credit therefore shall be claimed by the company or by any other person in respect of the amount of tax so paid.

(E) Income charged to tax not allowed as deduction [Section 115QA(5)]

No deduction under any other provision of this Act shall be allowed to:

- (a) the company; or
- (b) a shareholder

In respect of the income which has been charged to tax under section 115QA(1) or the tax thereon.

(2) Interest payable for delayed payment of tax [Section 115QB]

Where the principal officer of the domestic company and the company fails to pay the whole or any part of the tax on the distributed income referred to in Section 115QA(1), within the time allowed under section 115QA(3) of that section, he or it shall be liable to pay simple interest @ 1% for every month or part thereof on the amount of such tax for the period beginning on the date immediately after the last date on which such tax was payable and ending with the date on which the tax is actually paid.

(3) When company is deemed to be assessee in default [Section 115QC]

If any principal officer of a domestic company and the company does not pay tax on distributed income in accordance with the provisions of Section 115QA, then, he or it shall be deemed to be an assessee in default in respect of the amount of tax payable by him or it and all the provisions of this Act for the collection and recovery of income tax shall apply.

Exemption to the shareholder on account of buy back of shares [Section 10(34A)] [W.e.f. A.Y. 2014-15]

Since, the company has to pay additional income tax on buy back of shares, any income arising to an assessee, being a shareholder, on account of buy back of shares (not being listed on recognised stock exchange), shall be exempt.

- (ii) Where a reference under section 92CA(1) is made, an order under section 92CA(3) may be made at any time before 60 days prior to the date on which the period of limitation referred to in Section 153, or as the case may be, in Section 153B for making the order of assessment or re-assessment or re-computation or fresh assessment, as the case may be, expires.
- (iii) The date of installation of machinery or plant costing more than ₹ 100 crores for investment allowance @ 15% u/s 32AC extended to 31.03.2018 and 15% shall also be allowed to any assessee who installed new asset of ₹ 100 crore or less but more than ₹ 25 crores in any previous year upto 31.03.2018.
- (iv) Where maturity amount is received by the legal heir on the death of employee under keyman insurance policy, then such amount is taxable as Income from other sources in the hands of recipient.

Answer:

- (c) (i) Akhil, a not ordinarily resident have to pay taxes in Australia, due to income earned in Australia.

- (ii) Taxable in India: An individual, qualifying as resident and ordinarily resident in India would be liable to pay tax on his/ her Global Income. Therefore, the fee of ₹ 50,000 received by Mr. Birender from an Indian company carrying on business in Canada for the services rendered there would be chargeable to tax in India.
- (iii) Taxable in India: An individual, qualifying as resident and ordinarily resident in India would be liable to pay tax on his / her Global Income. Therefore, the agriculture income of ₹ 25,000, from a land in England, would be taxable in India. Further Mr. Chandan may be eligible to claim deduction with respect to the expenditure incurred for his son's education in India subject to the provisions of Section 80C of the Income tax Act, 1961.
- (iv) As Dinesh, Citizen of India, has left India for the purpose of employment outside India, present in India for less than 182 days during the previous year and therefore qualifying as non-resident 'NR' in India. Accordingly, he would be liable to pay tax on source based income in India. Therefore, Income of ₹ 5,00,000 earned in India would only be taxable in India. Income of ₹ 7,00,000 earned outside India i.e. in Burma would not be taxable in India.
- (v) Not Taxable in India: Since, the Income accrued and received during the year 2014-15 and not during the previous year i.e. 2012-13 and therefore not taxable in India during the previous year i.e. 2012-13. Further, the subsequent remittance of the fund to India would not be deemed to be received in India.

crore in fully paid equity shares. The company is considering a proposal to increase its power generation capacity which will require ₹ 5 crores. The additional capital required can be raised either by issue of fully paid equity shares or by issue of 10% debentures. However, the clearance for the public issue was not given by SEBI. The company in its return of income filed for the year ended 31st March, 2019 had claimed such expenses as revenue expenses which were disallowed by the Assessing Officer.

The company seeks your opinion. Advise.

Particulars	Amount in (₹)
	(Proposal I) Issue of Equity Shares	(Proposal II) Issue of 10% Debenture

Less: Interest on Debenture @ 10%	—	(50,00,000)
Profit Before Tax	3,00,00,000	2,50,00,000
Less: Tax @ 30% on PBT	(90,00,000)	(75,00,000)

7.80

Net Profit After Tax	2,10,00,000	1,75,00,000
Expected Rate of Return to Share Holders	14.00%	17.50%

Conclusion: The proposal of deriving additional capital by issuing fully paid up equity shares is not acceptable as it will give lesser rate of return to share holders in future. Therefore, it is beneficial to raise the additional funds through the issue of 10% debentures as it will increase the rate of return to shareholders from 14% to 17.50%.

(c) MASCON TECHNICAL SERVICES LTD. V. CIT (Madras High Court):
Share issue expenses cannot be allowed as revenue expenditure even when shares could not be issued due to non-approval by SEBI:

In the instant case the assessee incurred expenditure for issuing shares. However, on account of non-clearance from the SEBI, shares could not be issued. It claimed deduction for share issue expenses as revenue expenditure by contending that since the expenditure did not yield any desired result, the character of the expenditure had to be decided on the basis of the result that would yield benefit in assessee's business. The Assessing Officer and the CIT (A) disallowed such expenses. The Tribunal also affirmed the view of the Assessing Officer. Aggrieved assessee filed the instant appeal.

The High Court held in favour of revenue as under:

- The impugned expenses were incurred by the assessee for the purpose of widening its capital base. The assessee, admittedly, took steps to go in for public issue and after incurring expenditure, just before the public issue, by reason of the orders from the SEBI, the assessee could not go in for public issue. Thus, the efforts were aborted.
- There was no justifiable ground to accept the plea of the assessee that on account of the abortive efforts, the expenditure incurred would lose its character as capital expenditure for the purpose of allowing it as a revenue expenditure.

2016 - Dec [2] (a) Explain in brief the treatment as to the taxability and/or allowability, in the context of provisions contained under the Income-tax Act, 1961 for the assessment year 2019-20, in the following cases:

- (i) Aroma Ltd., an investment company, received dividend of ₹ 3,00,000 on equity shares from listed domestic companies. It paid interest of ₹ 2,00,000 on the borrowed funds utilised for making investment in such shares of these companies.

- (ii) Chetan Ltd. did not have any active business carried on by it during the previous year ended on 31st March, 2019 and had incurred capital expenditure on scientific research amounting to ₹ 2,00,000 related to its subsidiary company. (5 marks)

Answer:

- (i) The dividend income earned by Aroma Ltd. on the shares held as investment is exempt under the provisions of Section 10(34). As per Section 14A, no expenditure is allowable in respect of income which does not form part of total income. The interest paid on borrowed capital is an expenditure incurred in respect of shares purchased for investment. Since the dividend income received on shares is exempt and does not form part of total income of Aroma Ltd., the interest expenditure is not allowable as deduction in view of Section 14A. [The quantum of disallowance must be in accordance with Rule 8D of the Income-tax Rules, 1962.]
- (ii) As per Section 35(1)(iv), deduction in respect of capital expenditure on scientific research would be admissible under the provisions of Section 35(2) only if the scientific research relates to the business carried on by the assessee.
However, in the given case, Chetan Ltd., did not have any active business carried on by it to which the said scientific research related to. The capital expenditure incurred by Chetan Ltd. related to its subsidiary company. Therefore, Chetan Ltd. is not eligible for deduction under the provisions of Section 35(1)(iv) read with Section 35(2).

2017 - Dec [2] (a) Discuss the deductibility or otherwise of the following expenditure incurred by Sumit Agro Industries, while computing its business income for the year ended 31.03.2019.

- (i) Land & Building acquired for scientific research related to the business in September, 2018 for ₹ 22,50,000 consisting of cost of land ₹ 9,50,000 and balance for building. (2 marks)
- (ii) Contribution to the account of employees as per pension scheme referred to in Section 80CCD amounted to ₹ 35,00,000. Amount above

10% of the salary of employees in ₹ 5,80,000.

(2 marks)

- (iii) Tax on non-monetary perquisites provided to the employees and borne by the employers of ₹ 4,50,000.

(1 mark)

Answer:

- (i) As per section 35(1)(iv) read with section 35(2), if any capital expenditure (other than expenditure on acquisition of land) is incurred on scientific research related to the business carried on by the assessee, the whole of such capital expenditure is allowable as deduction in the previous year in which it is incurred. Therefore, ₹ 13,00,000 (i.e. ₹ 22,50,000 – ₹ 9,50,000 being the cost of land) is allowable as deduction for the AY 2018-19.
- (ii) The employer's contribution to the account of an employee under a pension scheme referred to in section 80CCD, is allowable as deduction under Section 36(1)(iva) while computing business income only upto 10% of salary of the employee in the previous year. Accordingly, ₹ 29,20,000 would be allowed as deduction under section 36(1)(iva).
Disallowance under section 40A(9) would be attracted only in respect of the amount in excess of 10% of salary. Therefore, ₹ 5,80,000 would be disallowed as per section 40(A)(9).
- (iii) The income chargeable under the head 'Salaries' of an employee below sixty years of age inclusive of all perquisites is ₹ 4,50,000 out of which, ₹ 50,000 is on account of non-monetary perquisites as per provision.

2017 - Dec [2A] (Or) (i) Mr. Bewaja, grows sugarcane and uses the same for the purpose of manufacturing sugar in his factory. 35% of the sugarcane produce is sold for ₹ 20 lacs and the cost of cultivation of such sugarcane is ₹ 7 lacs. The cost of cultivation of the balance sugarcane (65%) is ₹ 13 lacs and the market value of the same is ₹ 35 lacs. He after incurring ₹ 3.5 lacs in the manufacturing process on the balance sugarcane, sold the sugar for ₹ 45 lacs. Is he liable to tax on any income for A. Y. 2019-20 and if, yes, compute the taxable income and the agricultural income? (5 marks)

Answer:

Sugarcane is an agricultural produce and therefore, income from the sale of sugarcane gives rise to pure agricultural income.

However, in case of cultivation of sugarcane and use of sugarcane to manufacture sugar, the income would be partly business and partly agricultural. As per Rule 7 of the Income-tax Rules, 1962, taxable business income would be computed after deducting market value of any agricultural produce utilised as a raw material in such business, and no further deduction shall be made in respect of any expenditure incurred by the assessee as a cultivator or receiver of rent-in-kind.

The relevant workings as under:

Business Income: Sales – Market Value of 65% of sugarcane produce – manufacturing expenses.

45 lakhs – 35 lakhs – 3.5 lakhs = 6.5 lakhs

Agriculture Income: Market Value of sugarcane produce – Cost of cultivation of the sugarcane

= [20 lakhs + 35 Lakhs] – [7 lakhs + 13 Lakhs]

= 55 lakhs – 20 lakhs

Q3. Ranjit has taken an interest free loan of ₹ 10 lacs from his company. The amount is utilized by him for purchasing a house on 30.06.2017. The house is self occupied. As per the scheme of the company, loan would be recovered in 40 equal monthly installments recoverable immediately after completion of 18th month from the date of purchase. Assuming the SBI lending rate of similar loan on 01.04.2018 was 9.75%. Calculate the perquisite value of such loan in the hands of Ranjit for the assessment year 2018-19, is it possible to get deduction of perquisite value of interest under section 24(b)? Does it make any difference, if the house is given on rent?

Answer:

First installment will be due on 1st January 2019. Amount of installment will be ₹ 10,00,000 ÷ 40 = ₹ 25,000

Therefore, value for perquisite for interest free loan will be calculated by applying the interest rate charged by the State Bank of India on the first day of the relevant previous year on the outstanding amount of loan as reduced by the interest, if any, actually paid by the employee.

7.106■ Scanner CS Prof. Prog. M-III Paper 7 (2013 Syllabus)

Therefore, the value of perquisites will be as follows:

From April 18 to Dec 18	$10,00,000 \times 9.75\% \times 9/12$	73,125
For the m/o Jan 19	$9,75,000 \times 9.75\% \times 1/12$	7,922
For the m/o Feb 19	$9,50,000 \times 9.75\% \times 1/12$	7,719
For the m/o Mar 19	$9,25,000 \times 9.75\% \times 1/12$	7,516
	Total	96,282

Therefore, the perquisite value of interest free loan will be ₹ 96,282.

Interest on capital borrowed for the purchase, construction, re-construction, repair or renewals of house property is deductible under section 24(b). In this case, capital is borrowed from the employer without interest. There is no interest paid or payable in respect of the amount of loan of ₹ 10 lacs. Consequently, no deduction under section 24(b) would be available, whether the house is self occupied or let out.

Q4. How do you deal with the following issue under the respective provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961?

The assessee who was deriving income from 'house property' realized a sum of ₹ 52,000 on the account of display of advertisement hoarding of various concerns on the roof of the building. He claims that this amount should be considered under the head "house property" and not under "other sources".

Answer:

The question came up for consideration before the Calcutta High Court in Mukherjee Estate (P) Ltd. v CIT (2000) 244 ITR 1. It was decided that the assessee let out the roof for advertisement for hoarding and that the income cannot be considered as income from house property as hoarding do not form part of the building. Such, income is chargeable under the head "income from other sources".

Q5. Explain in brief about the treatment to be given in the following case under the Income Tax Act, 1961 for the A.Y. 2019-20:

A farmer (resident of Jaipur) sold his rural agricultural land situated in Nepal and received Indian rupees 2 lacs over the cost of acquisition of this land.

Answer:

The definition of capital assets under section 2(14), specifically excludes rural agricultural land in India. Therefore, it follows that if such land is situated outside India, it would fall within the definition of capital assets under section 2(14). Accordingly, capital gains on sale of rural agricultural land situated in Nepal would be subject to tax in the hands of the farmer, since he is a resident in India.

Q6. A shareholder of demerged Indian Company received listed shares from the resulting company in the scheme of demerger. The shareholder want to transfer the said shares received subsequent to the demerger for consideration. Your advice is sought on the tax consequences as to the shares received on demerger and sought to be transferred.

Answer:

As per the provisions of the Section 47(vid) any transfer or issue of shares by the resulting company to the shareholders of the demerged company in a scheme of demerger is not regarded as transfer for the purpose of capital gains under section 45 if the transfer is made in consideration of the demerger of the undertaking.

As a consequence of the demerger, the existing shareholders of the demerged company will receives shares in a resulting company. When the shareholder subsequently intends to transfer the said shares, the cost of such shares will have to be arrived at as per the provisions of Section 49(2c). According to the said provision the cost of acquisition of shares in the resulting company will be the amount which bears to the cost of acquisition of shares held by the assessee in the demerged company, the same proportion as the net book value of the assets transferred in a demerger bears to the net worth of the demerged company immediately before such demerger.

As per the provisions of Section 2(42A)(g), for determining the period of holdings of such shares, the period for which shares of the demerged company was held by the assessee would also be considered.

Q7. Dhaval is in business of manufacturing customized kitchen equipments. He is also the Managing Director and held nearly 65% of the paid up share capital of Aarav (P) Ltd. A substantial part of the business of Dhaval is obtained through Aarav (P)Ltd. for this purpose, Aarav (P) Ltd. passed on the advance received from its customer to Dhaval to execute the job work entrusted to him.

The Assessing officer held that the advance money received by Dhaval is in the nature of loan given by Aarav (P) Ltd. to him and accordingly is deemed dividend within the meaning of provisions of Section 2(22)(e) of the Income Tax Act, 1961. The assessing officer, therefore, made the addition by treating advance money as the deemed dividend income of Dhaval.

Examine whether the action of the Assessing Officer is tenable in law.

Answer:

As per Section 2(22)(e) in case a company, not being a company in which the public are substantially interested, makes payment of any sum by way of advance or loan to a shareholder holding not less than 10% of voting power/share capital of the company then, the payment so made shall be deemed to be dividend in the hands of such shareholder to the extent to which the company possesses accumulated profits.

In the present case Dhaval is holding 65% of the paid-up capital of Aarav (P) Ltd. has passed on advance received from its customer to Dhaval for execution of job work entrusted to Dhaval.

Since Aarav (P) Ltd. is not a company in which public are substantially interested, the applicability of the provisions of Section 2(22)(e) in respect of such transaction has to be examined in CIT V Rajkumar (2009) 318 ITR 462 (Del.), it was held that trade advance given to the shareholder which is in the nature of money transacted to give effect to a commercial transaction, would not be deemed to be dividend in the hands of the shareholder under section 2(22)(e). The Delhi High Court ruling in CIT v Ambassador Travels (P/Ltd. (2009) 318 ITR 376 also support the above view).

In the present case, the payment is made to Dhaval by Aarav (P) Ltd. for execution of work is in the course of commercial transaction and therefore, it shall not be deemed as dividend in the hands of Dhaval under section 2(22)(e). Hence, the action of Assessing Officer is tenable in law.

In The instant case MNQ Ltd., is a company in which public are not substantially interested. The company has accumulated profits of ₹ 10,00,000 on 31.03.2018. The loan given by the company to K was not in the course of business. K holds more than 10% of the equity shares in the company. Therefore assuming that K has voting power equivalent to his shareholding Section 2 (22)(e) comes into play and the sum of ₹ 1,00,000 representing the amount lent by the company to K, is includible as dividend in the total income of K for the assessment year 2019-20.

Under section 2 (22)(e) the liability arises the moment loan is borrowed by the shareholder and it is immaterial whether the loan is repaid before the end of the accounting year or not. Therefore the repayment of loan by K to the company on 30.03.2019 will not affect the taxability of the sum of ₹ 1,00,000 as dividend in his hands.

Q9. Parimal Managing Director of Heavens Engineering Pvt. Ltd., holds 70% of its paid up capital of ₹ 20 lacs. The balance as at 31.03.2018 in general reserves was ₹ 6 lacs. The company on 1.07.2018 gave an interest - free loan of ₹ 5 lacs to its supervisor having salary of ₹ 4,000 p.m. who in turn on 15.08.2018 advanced the said amount of loan so taken from the company to Shri Parimal. The assessing officer had taxed the amount of advance in the hands of Parimal. Is the action of Assessing officer correct?

Answer:

The company had advanced a loan to an employee who in turn had advanced the same to the Managing Director of the company holding 70% of the capital. By virtue of the provisions of Section 2 (22)(e), the same shall be treated as the payment by a company in which public are not substantially interested on behalf of, or for individual benefit of any such share holder (who holds not less than 10% of the voting power), to the extent to which the company possesses accumulated profits.

In this case the company has reserve of ₹ 6 lacs on 31st March, of the preceding year and the amount of loan advanced on 15th July 2018 is ₹ 5 lacs. Therefore the payment is to be treated as deemed dividend. The amount of interest free loan of ₹ 5 lacs given by the company to the supervisor who in turn had given the same to Mr. Parimal shall be construed as the amount given for the benefit of Mr. Parimal and is treated as deemed dividend chargeable to tax in the hands of Heavens Engineering. This has been held by the Supreme Court in the Case of L. Alagsunderam Chettiar V CIT (2001) 252 ITR 893.

Deemed dividend under section 2(22)(e) (Note 9)		50,000
Total Income		1,62,60,000

Notes:

1. Rental income from letting out a part of the office premises is taxable under 'income from house property'. Therefore, it has to be deducted while calculating business income since the income has been credited to profit & loss account. Likewise municipal taxes due in respect of such property, debited to profit & loss account has to be added back to compute business income.
There is an alternate view that rental income from letting out part of the excess premises by an assessee who is engaged in business is only exploitation of the commercial asset by an assessee who is engaged in business and hence, the same constitutes business income only. In such case also municipal taxes is not allowable as deduction since the same has not been paid on or before the due date of filing of return of income as required under section 43B.
2. Franchise is an intangible asset eligible for depreciation @ 25%. Since one time licence fees of ₹20 lacs paid for obtaining franchise has been debited to profit and loss account, the same has to be added back. Depreciation @ 25% has to be provided in respect of the intangible asset since it has been used for more than 180 days during the year.
3. ₹ 29,000 paid to A&Co., a goods transport operator in cash is deductible while computing business income, as the limit for disallowance under section 40A(3) would be attracted in case of payment to a transport contractor only when it exceeds ₹ 35,000. Since, it is already debited to profit and loss account, no further adjustment is required.
4. Contribution to a University approved and notified under section 35(1)(ii) is eligible for a weighted deduction of 150%. Therefore, the contribution of ₹ 2 lacs debited to profit & loss account has been added back and ₹ 3.00 lacs (being 150% of ₹ 2 lacs) has been

- deducted while computing business income.*
5. Loss of ₹ 3 lacs due to destruction of machinery caused by fire is not deductible since it is capital in nature.
 6. Payment to contractor would attract disallowance @ 30% of the expenditure.
 7. As per Section 94(7), where any person buys any shares within 3 months prior to the record date and sells such shares within 3 months after such date and the dividend received on such shares is exempt, then the loss arising out of such purchase and sale of shares shall be ignored to the extent of dividend income.

Loss on purchase and sale of shares (₹ 100 - ₹ 80) × 1000 shares	20,000
Less: Dividend exempt under section 10(34)	10,000
Short term capital loss	10,000

- Since, short term capital loss can be set-off only against income under the head “Capital Gains”, the short term capital loss of ₹ 10,000 has to be carried forward to the next year. Dividend of ₹ 10,000 credited to profit & loss account has to be deducted and short-term capital loss of ₹ 20,000 debited to profit & loss account has to be added back.*
8. Depreciation as per Income Tax Rules, 1962, is deductible while calculating business income. Therefore, ₹ 1.75 lacs depreciation on tangible assets and ₹ 5 lacs on intangible assets is deducted. The amount of ₹ 1 lac depreciation debited to profit & loss account has been added back.
 9. As per Section 2(22)(e), any payment by a company in which the public are not substantially interested by way of loan to a shareholder, who is the beneficial owner of shares holding not less than 10% of voting power, is deemed as dividend to the extent to

Q3. ABC Limited has claimed exemption on the income from long-term capital gains under section 54EC by investing in bonds of National Highway Authority of India within the prescribed time, in the computation of 'book profit' under section 115JB. The company claimed exclusion of long-term capital gains because of exemption available on it by virtue of Section 54EC. The Assessing Officer reckoned the book profit including long-term capital gains for the purpose of levy of minimum alternate tax payable under section 115JB.

In the action of the Assessing Officer justified in law?

Answer:

The issue under consideration in this case is whether long-term capital gain exempted by virtue of Section 54EC can be included in the book-profit computed under section 115JB for levy of minimum alternate tax.

It may be noted that minimum alternate tax is attracted under section 115JB, on account of tax on total income being less than 18.5% of book profit. Chapter XII-B is a self contained code for computation of book profit. The net profit as per the profit and loss account for the relevant previous year prepared in accordance with Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013, as increased/reduced by the specific adjustments provided for in Explanation I to Section 115JB would be the book profit for levy of MAT under section 115JB. Therefore, if an assessee has claimed exemption under section 54EC by investing in bonds of National Highway Authority of India within the prescribed time, the long-term capital gain so exempt would still be taken into account for computing book profit under section 115JB for levy of MAT. Since, Explanation I to Section 115JB does not provide for such deduction. As long as long-term capital gains are part of the profits included in the profit and loss account prepared in accordance with Schedule III of the Companies Act, 2013. Capital gains cannot be excluded unless provided under Explanation I to Section 115JB. It was so held by the Kerala High Court in N.J. Jose and Co. Ltd. v ACIT (2010) 321ITR0132.

Therefore, the action of Assessing Officer is justified in law.

Q4. ABC (P) Ltd. made a provision of ₹ 30 lacs for doubtful debts by debit to profit & loss account. The Assessing Officer while computing book profit under section 115 JB, wants to add back the provisions. Is the Assessing Officer justified in making such addition for computing book profit?

Answer:

Explanation (1) below Section 115JB (2) has been amended to provide that the net profit should be increased by inter alia, the amount set aside as provision for diminution in the value of any asset, if the same has been debited to profit and loss account, for computing the book profit.

Therefore, the Assessing Officer is justified in adding back the provisions of ₹ 30 lacs for doubtful debts while computing book-profit.

Q5. Yaman Limited is a company in which 60% of the shares are held by Piloo Limited. Yaman Limited declared a dividend amounting to ₹ 35 lacs to its shareholders for the financial year 2017-18 in its. Annual General Meeting held on 10th July 2017. Dividend distribution tax was paid by Yaman Limited on 21st July, 2018. Piloo Limited declared an interim dividend amounting to ₹ 50 lacs on 15th October 2018. Compute the amount of tax on dividend payable by Piloo Limited. What would be your answer if 58% shares of Piloo Limited are held by Kafi Limited an Indian Company?

Answer:

As per Section 115-O, dividend distribution tax @ 17.472% (i.e. 15% plus surcharge @ 12% Health and education cess @ 4%) is leviable on dividend declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company. As per Schedule 115-O (1A) a holding company receives dividend from its domestic subsidiary company can reduce the same from dividend declared, distributed or paid by it. The dividend from its domestic subsidiary company should be received in the same financial year in which the holding company declare distributes or pays the dividend. Further, the dividend shall not be considered for reduction more than once.

The conditions to be fulfilled for this purpose are as follows:

- (1) The domestic subsidiary company should have paid the dividend distribution tax which is payable on such dividend;
- (2) The recipient holding company should be a domestic company.

For this purpose, a holding company is a company which holds more than 50% of the nominal value of equity shares of another company.

Section 115-O(1B) provides that for the purposes of determining the tax or distributed profits payable in accordance with Section 115-O, any amount by way of dividends referred to in Section 115-O(1), as reduced by the amount referred to in Section 115-O (1A) [referred to as net distributed profits], shall be increased to such amount as would after reduction of the tax on such increased amount at the rate specified in Section 115-O(1), be equal to the net distributed profits.

On the basis of the aforesaid provisions dividend distribution tax payable by Piloo Limited shall be computed as follows:

Particulars	₹ in lacs
Dividend distributed by Piloo Ltd.	50
Less: Dividend received from subsidiary Yaman Ltd. (60% of ₹ 35 lacs)	21
Net distributed profits	29
Add: Increase for the purpose of grossing up of dividend

29 x 100/85 = 34.12 - 29.00	5.12
Gross dividend	34.12
Additional income-tax payable by Piloo Ltd. u/s 115-O [15% of ₹ 34.12 lacs]	5.12
Add: Surcharge @ 12%	0.61
	5.73
Add: Health Education cess @ 4%	0.23
	5.50

In order to remove the cascading effect of DDT in a multiplier corporate structure, Section 115-O was amended by the Finance Act, 2012. Accordingly in case any domestic company (Piloo Ltd. in this case) and such subsidiary company (Yaman Ltd.) Has paid the DDT as payable on such dividend, then, dividend distributed by the holding company (Piloo Ltd.) in the same year to the extent of dividend received from the subsidiary (Yaman Ltd.), shall not be subject to DDT under section 115-O, irrespective of whether the holding company (Piloo Ltd.) is a subsidiary of any other company (Kafi Ltd., in this case).

Therefore inspite of the fact that Piloo Ltd. is a subsidiary of Kafi Ltd. it can reduce the amount of dividend received from Yaman Ltd. for computation of dividend distribution tax. Therefore dividend distribution tax payable by Piloo Ltd. shall be 17.472% of ₹ 34.12 lacs (grossed up amount) i.e. ₹ 5.50 lacs.

Tax planning

Q2. Explain the doctrine of form and substance in the context of tax planning?

Answer:

The following are certain principles enunciated by the courts on the question as to whether it is the form or substance of a transaction, which will prevail in income-tax matters.

- (i) Form of transaction is to be considered in case of genuine transactions: It is well settled that when a transaction is arranged in one form known to law it will attract tax liability whereas, if it is entered into in another form which is equally lawful it may not. Therefore, in considering whether a transaction attracts tax or not, the form of the transaction put through is to be considered and not the substance. However, this rule applies only to genuine transactions. [CIT v. Motor and General Stores (P) Ltd. (1967) 66 ITR 692 (AP)].
- (ii) True legal relation is the crucial element for taxability: It is open for the authorities to pierce the corporate veil and look behind the legal facade at the reality of transaction. The taxation authority is entitled as well as bound to determine the true legal relation resulting from a transaction. The true legal relation arising from a transaction alone determines the taxability of a receipt arising from the transaction [CIT v. BM Kharvar (1969) 72 ITR 603(SC)].
- (iii) Substance (i.e. actual nature of expense) is relevant and not the form:
 - (a) In the case of an expenditure, the mere fact that the payment is made under an agreement does not preclude the department from enquiring into the actual nature of the payment [Swadeshi Cotton Mills Co. Ltd. v. CIT (1967) 63 ITR (SC)].

- (b) In order to determine whether a particular item of expenditure is of revenue or capital nature the substance and not merely the form should be looked into. [Assam Bengal Cement Co. Ltd. v. CIT (1955) 27 ITR 34 (SC)].

Q3. Specify with reason whether the following acts can be considered as (i) tax management; or (ii) tax planning; or (iii) tax evasion:

- (i) Mr. P deposits ₹ 1 lac in PPF account so as to reduce his total income from ₹ 3.40 lacs to ₹ 2.40 lacs.
- (ii) PQR Industries Ltd. installed an air conditioner costing ₹ 75,000 at the residence of a director as per terms of his appointment; but treats it as fitted in quality control section in the factory. This is with the objective to treat it as plant for the purpose of computing depreciation.
- (iii) SQL Limited maintains register of tax deduction at source effected by it to enable timely compliance.
- (iv) R Ltd. issue a credit note of ₹ 90,000 for brokerage payable to Suresh, who is son of R, Managing Director of the company. The purpose is to increase his total income from ₹ 1,60,000 to ₹ 2,50,000 and reduce its income correspondingly.

Answer:

- (i) It is a case of tax planning, since depositing money in PPF and claiming deduction under section 80C is as per the provision of law.
- (ii) It is a case of tax evasion as the air conditioner fitted at residential place is furniture depreciable @ 10% whereas the rate of depreciation applicable for plant and machinery is higher. The wrong treatment unjustifiably increases the amount of depreciation and consequently, reduce profit.
- (iii) It is a tax management because maintaining register of payment subject to TDS helps in complying with the obligation under the Income Tax Act, 1961.

- (iv) Net effect of the transaction is reduction of tax liability of the company by improper means. The company is liable to tax at a flat rate of 30% whereas Suresh would not be liable to pay tax. Since his income does not exceed the basic exemption limit of ₹ 2,50,000. The issue of credit note to reduce the liability of company amounts to tax evasion.
